SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew worse under the prescribed treatment, and the toes and one side of the foot were at length eaten entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound and well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific a most excellent medicine for blood diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

For three or four years I had an eating sore on my tongue that made a considerable hole in it. I became alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left.

Terrible Devastation of the Tornado in Webster County, Ky.

TREES CUT DOWN LIKE GRASS

Farm Houses Wrecked and the Inmates Hurled to Their Death.

THE MISSISSIPPI'S AWFUL MIGHT

Levees Still Giving Way Before the Pressure of the Increasing Flood—In Some Sections the Destitution Is Great.

LOUISVILLE, March 30.—A Dixon, Ky., special says a terrific storm passed through Webster county on Thursday evening. The tornado proper lasted about twenty minutes, and in that time eight people were killed and about thirty injured, some of whom will die. The property loss will amount to $200,000. All through the storm section, as far as can be seen, houses are demolished, trees uprooted and debris scattered all over the country. A large amount of stock was killed. Numbers of people are destitute, but are being cared for now. It will be necessary, however, to ask for outside aid.

LOUISVILLE, March 30.—A special from Poole's Mill says a large portion of that county is devastated by the great storm. In its track scarcely a vestige of timber or property is left. Trees were torn from the earth and buildings of every description demolished and scattered for miles. Debris was picked up to-day four miles from the place where the havoc was wrought. Only a meager account of the casualties is yet gathered, as the physicians have not yet returned from the desolated district. Some people who have come back for surgical aid give terrible reports of the destruction, and say that seventeen deaths are reported, so far, with a great number injured. The storm first struck the farms of two colored men, laying them waste. Next, Richard Williams's house was wrecked and he and one child and Mrs. Shelton were killed and several others hurt. The farm house of Arnold was next visited and three of the family were badly injured. Then Jackson Brown's farm was struck. No building or fence was left standing here, and three people were fatally injured. Six other farms in the direct track of the storm were next wrecked, but the residents fortunately escaped serious harm. The death work began again at the farm of John Balsy. Not a vestige of this poor man's property was left and the entire family was seriously injured. The tornado then took its course across Noblick flats, tearing a half mile in width through forests, leaving in its track not a single tree standing. Beyond the woods several more farm dwellings were blown down, but the inmates escaped with but slight injuries. The house of Mrs. Walker was completely demolished and all the family were badly hurt. The scene of devastation all along the course of the tornado is the most frightful ever witnessed in Kentucky. The storm tore its way from the last farm to the dense forest of Green river bottoms, striking the Louisville and Nashville road about half a mile from Sobree. There a heavy freight train including the engine, was thrown from the track and tangled up in a mass of debris. The engineer and two trainmen were killed. From this point the track of the aerial monster stretched across the broad bottoms toward Green river, crossing that stream at the mouth of Graves creek and there leaving Webster county.

LOUISVILLE, March 30.—A special from Hertford, Ky., reports several farm houses wrecked in that neighborhood and many persons injured.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 30.—It is learned to-night that at West Louisville not a business house was left and but one dwelling can be seen. Only one person was killed. The injured number fifteen, of whom four are not likely to recover.

NEW BREAKS IN THE LEVEES.

The Inundation of Mississippi Plantations Continues—People Moving in Haste.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—Advices from various points regarding the Mississippi levees show no marked change to-day, except in the vicinity of Skpwith, where the water is steadily advancing. The towns of Mayerville, Fitlers and Hayes cannot escape an inundation similar to Skipwith. People are moving their goods as rapidly as possible. There is no danger to human life and most of the stock has been taken to safe grounds. In Madison parish the levee bank was crumbling rapidly, but is now being rebuilt and may be completed in time to save the country. The railroads in that vicinity and all along the river are the heaviest sufferers. Some divisions have been entirely abandoned and others will have to be soon unless the situation improves. The town of Rayville is in imminent danger; a four-inch rise will flood it. Greenville, Miss., is now on an island, and the town is in great danger of being inundated. The situation is unimproved from last night, although the levees are not yet gone. A new break occurred at Huntington this morning, and the water in the town is now rising at the rate of an inch and a half an hour. All the railroads there have been abandoned.

LIVING ON THE HOUSE TOPS.

ST. LOUIS, March 30.—J. J. Hogan, of the Memphis Commercial, has arrived from the flooded district along the Mississippi river. Hogan says in Laconia Circle, Delta county, Ark., comprising 20,000 acres, the inhabitants, numbering between 2000 and 5000 people, whites and negroes, are in a destitute condition, many flooded out of their homes and living on the house tops. The live stock not drowned is maintaining a precarious existence with the wretched owners on the roofs and elsewhere. From Helena the entire Mississippi country reaching from Vicksburg west to Shreveport and down to New Orleans seemed likely to be inundated. All people who realize the true situations are moving into other regions.

HELENA, Ark., March 30.—The river came to a stand to-day and stands at 47.9 feet. This is three and a half inches below the high water mark of '86. Steamers loaded with provisions reached Laconia Circle this morning. The unfortunate people of that district are being relieved as fast as possible. The levees around Helena are still in good shape and a more confident feeling prevails.

REPORTS HAVE BEEN SENSATIONAL.

CHATTANOOGA, March 30.—The Times has a dispatch from a large cotton planter at Memphis, saying that to a great extent the newspapers have been too sensational about the levee troubles. Planters will call for aid when it is necessary, but not before, as otherwise labor would be demoralized and leave the planters helpless, with their planting far behind. The breaks are bad, he says, and a good deal of the country is flooded, but the planters have not yet found it necessary to appeal for aid.

FUNERALS IN LOUISVILLE.

Impressive Services Held in Catholic and Protestant Churches.

LOUISVILLE, March 30.—Snow began falling this afternoon, melting as fast as it fell and having the effect of rain. All the afternoon and evening men have been busy trying to protect property exposed. They were particularly active at the tobacco warehouses and the damage is greatly lessened. It is thought, however, a loss of nearly $100,000 will be sustained by wet. No bodies are reported taken out anywhere to-day. Funeral processions followed each other in rapid succession to-day and some of the scenes were impressive. Masses were said at the Catholic churches and sermons preached at the Protestant houses. Offers of help continue to come in and liberal contributions from home and outside are being received.

Miss Clara Barton, president of the American White Cross Association, arrived in the city to-day, with several of her assistants. In an interview to-night, she says she finds the relief work so thoroughly organized and proceeding so efficiently that there is no need of her services here. She added that she has never known efforts for relief better directed. Miss Barton and her corps of assistants will devote their attention to other storm-stricken points in this state and Tennessee. A great number of strangers are in the city from outside points, and many who had friends here are coming to see about them. The devastated district was thronged to-day with sight-seers, and presented a dreary sight. Gangs of men are working hard putting up temporary roofs over partly demolished houses and replacing fronts in stores to secure stocks against danger from further storms.

No more missing have been reported to-day, and it is believed all the killed have been made known. The injured are receiving every attention and no deaths have occurred to-day, although the condition of some is extremely critical. The water is running very low, and every effort is being made to complete the temporary stand pipe, which will be finished Wednesday. But before that time, possibly by to-morrow night, the city will be almost entirely without water, except that received for fire department work.

WEATHER PROPHECIES.

Two Missouri Cranks Predict Violent Storms for April.

ST. LOUIS, March 30.—[Special Telegram.]—Professor George Root, of Canton, Mo., a successful weather prognosticator predicts a tornado period from the 20th to the 25th of April and says that it will be the worst storm period of the year. He thinks that it will establish the existence of the nearest planet of Uranus.

Rev. Ira R. Hicks, of this city, who has achieved much more than a local reputation as a weather prophet and who predicted the last storm with wonderful accuracy also gives a forecast for April which includes numerous marked changes in temperature and three distinct storm periods. He says the month will open with summer temperature and vernal storms will occur on the 1st and 2d, especially on the 2d. The 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th are designated as danger days, when there will be heavy storms of lightning, wind and hail with snow in the northern sections. About the 13th it will be cold with much frost. Active and violent storms will occur on the 19th, 20th and 21st, moving from west to east. From this on there will be the usual April showers and the month will go out with high thermometer. The dates of the greatest earthquake probabilities are given as the 5th, 19th, 20th and 21st.

Snow Storms in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, March 30.—The heaviest snow storm of the year set in this morning, and at a late hour to-night there is no cessation. Eight inches have fallen, and street car travel is greatly impeded.

THEY WORKED THE TRAP DOOR.

Los Angeles Barbers Accused of Robbing a Liquor Store.

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—For some months past J. H. Keefer & Co., wholesale liquor dealers on Main street, have been missing articles from their stock, the doors and windows showing no signs of having been tampered with. This morning John Silvers, a clerk of the firm, went to the store about 6 o'clock. On entering the place he heard sounds of footsteps in the cellar, and, looking about, found a considerable quantity of goods packed, ready to be carried off. Examination of the hallway used in common by the liquor firm and the occupants of a barber shop in the rear disclosed a trap door which led to the cellar of Keefer & Co. By the trap door lay a screwdriver, which had evidently been used for unscrewing the trapdoor, which the thieves had not the time to refasten. H. Charsron, proprietor of the barber shop, and A. C. Falder, an employe, were arrested, and in Charsron's, on Macy street, were found goods valued at $2000, which were identified by Keefer as stolen from his stock. The prisoners profess innocence and say the property in question was sent to the Macy street house by Max Fuerkamp, a former employe of Keefer & Co., who committed suicide some months ago by jumping into San Francisco bay from an Oakland ferry boat.

THE MOLDERS' STRIKE.

No Signs of a Disturbance Anywhere—Non-Union Men Faring Well.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—To-day was the beginning of the fifth week of the iron molders' strike against the Manufacturers' Association, yet an air of quietness pervaded the entire district occupied by the hostile forces. At the strikers' headquarters molders were collected all day, but contented themselves with newspapers and quiet discussions as to the probable outcome of the great strike now being made by the Iron Molders' union. Details of special and regular police officers are still on guard at the Risdon, Fulton and Union foundries, but the duty is a monotonous one and perhaps the most discontented individuals connected with the fight are the patrolmen. Nothing of a disturbance has been seen since the declaration of the strike. Manufacturers hold that the strikers are not yet reduced to bedrock, and until that time there will not be much danger of violence. The Eastern molders at work in the Risdon foundry do not seem to be faring badly. They have good board and comfortable lodgings and appear to be contented. Several of them were taken out for a ride to-day under the protection of special officers.

$250,000 DRY DOCKS

Will Be Built at Port Townsend—Other Great Works.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., March 29.—[Special Correspondence.]—A dry dock and marine ways are to be established on Port Townsend bay, which will necessitate an expenditure of $250,000. Messrs. Atkins and Ramsey, of London, England, two wealthy capitalists, are in the city negotiating for a site near Hadlock. The dock is to be 500 feet in length and 125 feet in breadth, and will be capable of accommodating the largest vessel afloat. Large steamers similar to those that ply on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans can easily go on the dry dock for a thorough overhauling. R. W. DeLion, one of the best known shipbrokers and capitalists of the Pacific Northwest has signified his willingness to take one-half of the stock and active management of the company. The gentlemen interested mean business and are actively pushing the preliminary arrangements preparatory to incorporating.

The construction of the dry dock will give employment to several hundred mechanics. Stone to be used in the construction will be brought down from Hood's canal, near Union City, where the Port Townsend Southern railway will pass. The location is the finest on the coast. Huge iron smelters, manufacturing the finest durable pigiron in America, are located a few hundred rods distant. Two large lumber mills, capable of manufacturing several million feet of lumber per week are also located on the bay. The peculiar ingredients of the water, which is very much flavored with iron, proves very beneficial to the wharves and piling. When the transpacific steamers commence running from Puget Sound to China and Japan, which is certainly at no very far distant day, these docks will be of inestimable value.

Ship yards for the building of all kinds of craft are to be established in connection with the dry docks. A prominent firm of ship builders in San Francisco are negotiating for the management of the yards. They propose to commence the immediate construction of three or four revenue cutters for the Hawaiian government. Other orders for sailing vessels will be filled and the industry will assume a well proportioned aspect within a few months. The railroad company proposes to erect grain elevators on the water front adjacent to Port Townsend, which in addition to the ship yards, dry docks, lumber mills, iron smelters, and the fish preserving industry on the opposite side of the bay, will make this city one of the most substantial on the Pacific coast. W. J. J.

LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS.

The Son of a Rich Kentucky Merchant Perishes in a Storm.

DENVER, March 30.—A Cheyenne special to the Republican says: Edward Happy, the son of a rich Louisville, Ky., merchant, who has been visiting on the Big Horn, has been lost in the mountains for three weeks and it is believed he has perished. His horse, with blankets and saddle, was found by a searching party yesterday twenty miles from the road on which Happy was traveling when overtaken by a storm. It is feared the body cannot be found until the snow melts from the mountains.

ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY.

The Bodies of the Victims Found a Year After.

DENVER, March 30.—Last December the body of a girl, supposed to be that of Edna Wilson, was found buried in a hut on Enos ranch, in Big Horn basin. The coroner, while investigating the matter last week, discovered two more bodies, one a white man and one an Indian woman buried within a few feet of where the girl was found. All three had been murdered, their heads being crushed with an ax. They had evidently been dead a year. The mystery is beyond solution by the authorities.

Stock Starving in West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 30.—Information from Boone, Lincoln and adjoining counties is to the effect that hundreds of cattle are dying from want of food. Grain is very scarce and the roads are so bad that no feed can be hauled.

The Northern Pacific are now selling first-class limited tickets through to Chicago for $67; second class, $39. These are the lowest rates now in effect.

The town is growing south. Minthorn.

READY FOR THE FRAY.

Senators Will Wage Fierce Battle in the Montana Case.

VEST AND HOAR TO MEASURE WORDS

Personal Animosities Will Prevent Appropriations for Arid Lands.

TARIFF BILL AS IT NOW STANDS

Representatives Hermann and Wilson Improving Mail Facilities in Their Respective States—The Columbia River.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—[OREGONIAN office, corner Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.]—The Montana case, which will come up this week, will furnish the senate an opportunity to indulge in fierce partisan politics, which have been somewhat neglected of late. Both sides are ready for the fray and there will be a battle, such as has not been waged in many months. Senator Vest has large interests in Montana and also a large number of former democratic constituents, and he intends to vindicate them and show up the republican methods in Montana, while Senator Hoar will defend the report of the majority of the committee.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—As stated in these dispatches, the prospects for an appropriation for irrigation are growing less. The fight is now against Major Powell, of the geological survey, who has heretofore had charge of irrigation matters, by Senator Plumb, of Kansas, who has a grievance against Powell, because the latter refused to make some appointment he had asked. The Kansas senator is not a friend of irrigation and will do all he can to keep any appropriation from being made as long as Powell has anything to do with it. Irrigation was one of the hopes of the Northwest, but personal quarrels are to be pandered to, although the vast arid regions suffer from it.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The tariff bill of the republican members of the ways and means committee, which will be reported to the full committee to-morrow, contains one important change. Hides are made dutiable at 15 per cent. ad valorem. The committee has vacillated upon the tariff on hides, first putting on a duty of 1½ cents per pound, then, at the request of the shoe and leather men, they took it off, and finally, by a vote of 4 to 3, they restored it to an ad valorem duty. No change was made in the lead schedule, upon which a firm fight has been made, and sugar remains where it was fixed a few weeks ago.

Representatives Herman, of Oregon, and Wilson, of Washington, when not occupied by committee work, have been devoting themselves to the improvement of the mail facilities in their states. The number of petitions that each receives indicates that mail matters have been badly neglected. General Clarkson says that there are more complaints from Montana, Washington and Oregon, than of any other sections, and that these complaints are just, but the department has no funds to remedy them.

During the hearing given Representative Wilson before the rivers and harbors committee the other day, Chairman Henderson stated that the Columbia river had received better treatment than any other river in the United States; that more money had been expended in removing the obstructions at the Cascades and improving the mouth than upon any other stream of the same length. Wilson retorted that the amounts expended were of no benefit to the upper Columbia, nor would they be until the dalles obstructions were removed. There is hope that the Columbia river improvement may receive some strength by the passage of the Galveston and Sault Ste Marie bills in the senate.

CONGRESSIONAL FORECAST.

Order of Business in Senate and House the Coming Week.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—In the senate the dependent pension bill and the Florida judicial nominations are in order. After these, comes the Montana election case, on which a long debate is anticipated. Reagan will speak to-morrow upon the bills providing for the issue of treasury notes upon deposits of silver bullion and free coinage of gold and silver.

In the house the army appropriation bill continues the subject of consideration, and after it the bill to admit Idaho. The tariff bill is expected during the week.

The Blaine-Damrosch Wedding.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—[Special Telegram.]—The marriage of Miss Margaret Blaine, oldest daughter of the secretary of state, and Walter Damrosch, of New York, will take place here on the 17th of April. The wedding-day was settled upon only a short time ago, and was then hastened by the fact that some of the most intimate acquaintances of the bride and groom had arranged a date to sail for Europe. The event will be quiet, and in all probability will take place at the Blaine residence.

THE FIRST BANK.

To Be Opened Soon at Anacortes—Organization of a Fire Department.

ANACORTES, March 27.—[Special Correspondence.]—The Fidalgo bank was organized to-day with a capital of $100,000; Linus E. Post, David Wilson and E. P. Caldwell, are the incorporators. The bank will be opened to the public on April 15, on the corner of First and Q avenue. The contract for the vault has been already let. The management will erect a two story brick building on the corner of Fifth and Q avenue, as soon as plans for same can be made. The names of the incorporators is a sufficient guarantee of the stability of the institution. It is understood that Linus E. Post will be the first president and David Wilson, of Tacoma, vice president. Two or three prominent financiers are spoken of for the position of cashier. The incorporators will make the appointment in the course of a few days.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Captain F. A. Hill, wife of Captain Hill, late superintendent of the Oregon Improvement Company, was received in Anacortes with profound regret, by her many friends here.

The steamship Umatilla, arrived last night at 8 o'clock, and after landing passengers and freight proceeded on her journey to Vancouver, B. C.

The City of Kingston will call at Port Townsend until April 15th, en route from Seattle to Anacortes, but after that date it is understood she will run from Tacoma to Victoria, calling at Seattle and Port Townsend only.

Over seventy-five passengers boarded the steamer City of Kingston here on her down trip last night, and as many more got off at Anacortes. This favorite boat was literally packed this trip. The travel on the Sound at present is astonishingly large.

Among the arrivals to-day are James and Joseph McNaught, of Seattle, Vice-President Oakes, of the Northern Pacific railway, S. W. E. Griffith, president of the Seattle National Bank, A. B. Stewart, J. A. Ware and J. Roberts, of Victoria, B. C.

A meeting is called for Friday evening for the purpose of perfecting an organization of a fire department, and a monster attendance is expected. T. J. K.

NOTABLE DEAD.

JUDGE SABIN.

GALVESTON, Tex., March 30.—Chauncey B. Sabin, United States district judge for the Eastern district of Texas, died to-day.

DAVID DOWS.

NEW YORK, March 30.—David Dows, the prominent grain broker and capitalist, died to-day after a long illness.

For low rates, excellent accommodations and all the features that constitute a successful and enjoyable trip to the East, take the Northern Pacific railroad. Suicide of a Seattle Cigarette Fiend by Morphine.

CALIFORNIA POLITICAL POT BOILS

Marriage of Hon J T Gregg at Ashland—The San Francisco Coasting—A Fortune in Ceylon for a Californian.

SEATTLE, March 30—Ira Hummell son of wealthy parents, of this city, and who during the past three years has been under indictment for shooting John Michaelson committed suicide to-day in a Front street lodging house by taking a dose of morphine.

About 8 o'clock this morning Hummell went into the Opera saloon and called for a room. A barkeeper named Bernard showed him to a room and left him. About noon to-day Bernard went up stairs to wake the roomers who were still asleep and, among others knocked on Hummell's door Hummell told him that he was not well and wanted to stay in bed awhile. He called for a pitcher of water which was given him When Bernard went into the room Hummell was lying in bed smoking a cigarette. He looked bad but said he would get up after awhile At 4 30 this afternoon the clerk went up to the room again and found Hummell dead in bed, with an empty glass and a morphine bottle at his side On the stand near by was a card on which was scribbled the words 'My home is on Eleventh street, between Yesler avenue and Washington I am a son of John Hummell.' This was all he left to indicate that he purposely took his own life. But there is no doubt that he did, as he was a physical wreck from the habitual use of cigarettes, which utterly ruined his life.

THE CALIFORNIA POLITICAL POT.

A Sharp Contest for the Gubernatorial Nomination Probable.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—[Special Telegram]—A sharp contest among the politicians is now going on in this state among the candidates for the governorship Friends of the present governor, Waterman, claim that he has already secured pledges sufficient for a renomination but this is doubted In some parts of the state he is exceedingly unpopular, owing largely to his overbearing actions towards his private secretary Boruck Ex Congressman Markam, of Southern California, who arrived here last night, is an open candidate for this position He did splendid work while in congress and the people who know him best hold him loyal and true It is quietly understood that Congressman Morrow will be a candidate for the gubernatorial seat if he can not secure the vacancy soon to arise here in one of the judgeships of the United States district court. Judge Works, of San Diego now on the supreme bench of this state is a strong candidate for this judgeship, as he is an old personal friend of President Harrison

NEWS FROM ASHLAND.

Marriage of Hon. J. T. Gregg and Miss Eva Price—Union Party Convention.

ASHLAND, Or , March 29 —[Special Telegram]—A very pleasant social affair occurred in this city to-day in the marriage of Hon J T Gregg of Salem, to Miss Eva Price, of this place Miss Price has been a teacher in our public schools for several years and has gained the respect and confidence of all Her many friends here wish for herself and husband all the prosperity possible in their newly wedded life. Mr and Mrs Gregg leave on the train this evening for the north

The union party met here in convention yesterday and elected G G Thomas and C H Wallace of Medford, W H Breese of Talent, E F Walker of Central Point, and John Butterworth of Ashland, delegates to the state convention to be held at Oregon City April 9

SAN FRANCISCO COASTING FLEET

No Demand for Deep Water Sailors—The Whaling Fleet.

SAN FRANCISCO March 30.—[Special Telegram]—Very few vessels loaded for foreign ports are in want of crews at present, and the demand for deep water sailors has fallen off It is expected that there will not be much demand for sailors for foreign ports for a few months to come, as vessels now on the way here are not due until from sixty to ninety days Not more than four deep water ships are expected next month Nearly all the members of the Coast Seamen's Union are at present employed for the Alaska fisheries. Since the whaling fleet departed for the season's cruise in the Arctic with full crews the number of idle seamen on the water front has greatly decreased Sealing schooners have also taken a great number of men and it is believed the few vessels fitting out for Alaska will clean up the rest No reports are expected from whalers until the steamers arrive from Japan, where the whaling fleet of the South Pacific touches on its way north or from the Arctic fleet until the arrival from the north of some cannery vessels with salmon So far as heard from the sealing schooners have made good catches in some instances far beyond the owners' expectations.

By the steamer Corona from Eureka it is learned that the schooner Bertha Dolbeer, while crossing Humboldt bar last week struck bottom and commenced to fill rapidly She was picked up by a tug and towed back to her dock, where she is being repaired.

The cost of repairing the Pacific coast steamer Alki will exceed $40,000 She will be ready for sea in April

The steamer Mary D Hume, recently purchased by the Pacific Steam Whaling Company, will stay in the Arctic for three years, wintering at the mouth of the Mackenzie river

A FORTUNE IN SIGHT.

A Well-Known San Franciscan to Lay Claim to a Ceylon Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO March 30.—[Special Telegram.]—Alex Martin, of this city, nephew and heir of Donald Davidson, deceased, who was formerly well known here, will soon leave for Ceylon, to there lay claim to a half interest in a coffee plantation which his uncle owned at the time of his death, in 1875 The plantations, which cover about 600 acres, are said to be worth $160,000 while Davidson's accrued profits are estimated at $1 000,000 Two capitalists have agreed to back Martin in his litigation.

San Francisco Sporting Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 —[Special Telegram]—The weather has again put a quietus on the energy of the amateur athletes, who have been impatiently looking for months for rifts in the dark clouds that have deluged roads, tracks and courts and have practically stopped cycling athletics and tennis. Excitement in fistic circles has temporarily abated with the decision of the Mc Auliffe Carroll match A number of boxing matches of secondary interest to the sporting world are on hand but nothing of unusual importance is likely to take place in the local clubs until Peter Jackson returns He is now turning his face westward, and before many weeks there will be a revival of the question whether the California club can afford to pay $15 000 or $20 000 for the privilege of seeing Sullivan attempt to stop the triumphant progress of the colored gladiator

The departure of Jack Dempsey for Portland yesterday has temporarily at least, settled the question as to whether he can get a return match with the Marine Dempsey took his champion belt with him and has an indefinite leave of absence from the California Athletic Club. He does not know himself when he will return He may be back in two weeks and he may not return in ten years It is likely that he will go East before he returns and may conclude to visit England

San Francisco Theaters.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—[Special Telegram]—In the way of theatrical attractions there seems to be no lack of novelties, and managers are confidently booking engagements well into next year. The Kendals who have been giving with their company pleasing entertainments at the Baldwin enter upon their last week to morrow The bill is to be varied

Rice's 'Evangeline' pays a return visit this week, opening at the California theater to-morrow evening

The Grismer Davies combination is having a good season at the Alcazar 'The Tigress" drew well last week and to morrow night will be replaced by "The Burglar "

The last week of Aronson's comic opera company commences to-morrow evening at the Bush street theater with Millocker's 'Black Hussar "

"A Dark Secret, played in the old California theater some two years ago, is to be produced with novelties at the Grand Opera house to-morrow night.

Suppe's opera, "The Gascon," is at the Tivoli, and will run for another seven nights.

The San Jose Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO March 30.—[Special Telegram.]—The identity of Rudolph Mayer, of San Jose, who so tragically committed suicide on Saturday, the 22d inst , by rushing in front of a moving railroad train and shooting himself in the head, has been fully established. His will, written in pencil the day before the deed, came to light to-day In it he states that he was hounded to death by his enemies He states also that he is of Jewish parentage He left a request to pay all his debts and then to give the residue to his young gentlemen friends. The value of the property is not large.

Lost a Leg by the Cars

SAN FRANCISCO March 30 —[Special Telegram]—Late this afternoon James Simms a Sonoma stone cutter, attempted to board a train at Saucelito He slipped and fell, and the wheels passed over his leg, above the knee, almost severing it from the body As there were no accommodations for him there and the last boat for this city had left, W. R. Hearst editor of the Examiner chartered a ferryboat for an extra trip and brought the man to the city He was taken to the receiving hospital and his leg amputated. The shock may prove fatal.

Electric Light Company at War.

NAPA Cal , March 30 —Six weeks ago the electric light company shut down to compel the city to pay higher prices. The board of trustees have now granted a franchise to the Thompson Houston Company which is preparing to put a plant in operation The old company consequently lit up again last night War between the companies is expected.

Baseball Games Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO March 30 —Owing to rain the baseball games in the California league series at Stockton and this city were both postponed to-day

A RUNAWAY FREIGHT.

It Comes Down the Mountain at a Terrific Rate of Speed—A Fireman Injured.

A runaway freight train raised general Cain on the mountain Friday night, says the Pendleton East Oregonian It was bound east and was drawn by a regular and helper engine with a 'hog ' pushing behind At a point a short distance beyond the Meacham tunnel the helper engine in front struck a snowslide and became imbedded in the mass of earth rock and debris. It was uncoupled from the other engine and train and all hands got down to shovel it out with the exception of one brakeman and the engineer and fireman of the hog in the rear This engine was directly in the tunnel and was uncoupled and backed down a short distance into open air The air brakes of the regular engine in front then gave way in some manner, and the entire train started down hill The hog could not hold the train and was borne along in the rush, the speed being nearly fifty miles an hour At last Engineer Quackenbush and Fireman Oscar Lunde jumped for their lives each rolling down an embankment 150 feet high The single brakeman pluckily staid with the train set all the brakes and after many moments of peril succeeded in stopping the train at North Fork. The hog engine now unmanned kept on its own way until it reached Wilbur where it was stopped by some means

Fireman Lunde was seriously injured in the back and internally by his fall He was picked up and brought to Pendleton by the delayed west bound fast mail and taken to Walla Walla this morning Engineer Quackenbush miraculously escaped with a few slight bruises.

MARYLAND'S DEFAULTING TREASURER.

His Shortage Will Not Fall Below a Half Million.

ANNAPOLIS Md , March 30.—The condition of the affairs of State Treasurer Archer seem to be growing more complicated and it is thought now the shortage will not fall below half a million. Archer it is learned, has a great number of private debts and it is asserted that a number of trust estates that were in his care have been wiped out

Four Wives in as Many Months

New York Sun

Charles Howard a painter, 27 years old was arrested in Henry county Alabama a few days ago on a charge of bigamy The officers have been investigating his matrimonial career, and find that he has four wives and married all of them in less than four months. Another unusual feature of the case is that all his wives live in this state and three of them are in adjoining counties.

Howard married in Mobile about four months ago, and soon deserted his wife. He went to Geneva, Ala., married again, and left a few days after the wedding At Columbia Howard bought a marriage license on Saturday and calling on Miss Adkinson a young lady he had met only once, asked her to marry him. She refused, and then he called on Miss Price, another lady he had met only once before. She consented to marry him, and with a pen and ink he changed the name on the license

Then they went to the home of a minister and were married Howard lived with wife No 3 only a few weeks when he left and went to Dothan where he went to work at his trade In a few days he met a young lady, and after a few visits induced her to marry him They had been married only a few days when wife No 1 started out from Mobile in search of her missing husband, found him, and caused his arrest. Howard declares that he does not love any of them now and seems indifferent as to what is done with him

Hardly a Safe Precedent.

Philadelphia Inquirer

'It was during the war between this road and the Central' said Mr Crocker, 'that I hauled the 'old man' as we generally called him, over the eastern division We were lying on a siding at Palatine bridge, directly opposite the freight-house where a local freight was sitting The brakeman had tried to make a coupling between a Pennsylvania railroad standard and a Boston and Albany local car Several times the links failed to couple and the brakeman, becoming angry threw the link over into the ditch In a few seconds the front door of his car just back of my engine, opened and the old man himself came out. 'What did you throw that link into the ditch for? he said to the astonished brakeman

'Wasn't any good was the answer

"Do you know whose property you are throwing away? said the big man

'Yes the Pennsylvania railroad's, sir '

'The president said nothing more but after looking at the brakeman for a few minutes he went into his car

"The fellow's ready answer not only saved him his position, but his effrontery got him into the passenger service and he is now conducting a passenger train The only mention he ever made of it was when we got to Utica and I was cutting loose, when he came to the cab and asked me if I could tell him the young fellow's name Two days later he was on a passenger train "

A Monster Tombstone.

St. Louis Republic.

The largest tombstone in the world (monuments erected to distinguished persons excepted), is probably that of the late Henry Scarlett, of Upson county, Georgia. Scarlett was wealthy, and noted for his misanthropic tendencies. He led the life of a hermit; why, no one knew, but it was hinted that he was a victim of disappointed love Several years before his death, which occurred in the spring of 1888, he selected a monster boulder a miniature mountain of granite 100x250 feet in dimensions, for a tombstone and had it appropriately lettered by a marble cutter A cave fitted up as a roomy tomb was excavated under the huge bowlder Scarlett himself superintending the work After his death neighbors relatives and friends carried the remains and deposited them under the rock according to ante-mortem directions, and to-day the mortal parts of Henry Scarlett repose under the most gigantic tombstone in the world

PERIL ON THE OCEAN.

The Steamship City of Paris Narrowly Escapes Foundering.

PASSENGERS PANIC STRICKEN

Bravery of the Second Engineer Saves All From Destruction—Both Engines Rendered Useless—The Water Gained Rapidly

QUEENSTOWN March 30.—The Inman line steamer City of Paris towed by the steamer Aldersgate, arrived at Queenstown at 4 o'clock this morning An accident occurred Tuesday, caused by the breaking of the low pressure cylinder of the port engine pieces of the metal forcing the bulkhead and making a hole in the double bottom and disabling the starboard engine The passengers became panic stricken when they found the ship making water and that there was a possibility of the vessel foundering The water which flooded the engine compartment was forced through the ejection tubes which it is alleged, the engineers during the excitement had neglected to shut. The starboard engine was shattered almost to pieces the port engine room was filled with upwards of 2000 tons of water, and the port engine rendered entirely useless. Terrible consequences would have ensued but for the bravery of the second engineer, who at peril of his life managed to shut off the steam thus saving the machinery from total demolition

The life boats were cleared and the pumps kept working The weather was fine and there was no wind The steamer drifted helplessly until the 26th, when the captain sent the chief officer and six men in a life boat to get into the track of other line steamers in the hope of intercepting the City of Chester or the Adriatic The boat met the Adriatic which declined to take the tow but sent the steamer Aldersgate It is a small steamer unable to tow over four or five knots hourly and progress was slow until Saturday when the Ohio was sighted She stood by until three P M, when Fastnet was sighted Two tugs were sent later The water kept [illegible] in spite of the work of the pumps an examination being made by divers The conduct of the officers and crew was admirable.

Very scant courtesy was shown the press by representatives of the steamship line, and it would have been very difficult to get any details were it not for the stories of passengers. One of the passengers says the serious feature was the fact that the steam pumps were disabled by the accident and the crew had to take to the hand pumps Extemporized applications of heavy sails and blankets were also made The opinion is freely expressed that if a storm had come up the steamer would have gone to the bottom in a few hours.

BISMARCK WAS OUR FRIEND.

In the Dark Days of Civil War He Kept Prussia Neutral

NEW YORK March 30 —[Special Telegram]—From London comes a special cable to the Tribune saying You will look in vain in the German papers for the facts regarding Bismarck's resignation The penalties for telling too much truth in Germany are heavy and even private speech is fettered Do no come to Berlin now, writes a friend. No man here even to his wife dare say what he thinks. The emperor contrives to hear every word uttered, even by the humblest ' It is the hour for us Americans once again to remind ourselves of one other thing—that Prince Bismarck has been a steadfast friend to America through his whole public career He kept Prussia benevolently neutral when Napoleon tried to organize a European cabal in favor of the Southern Confederacy But for Bismarck in Germany and Disraeli in England that perfidious scheme might have succeeded 'I never would listen to it ' said Bismarck 'When the emperor asked my counsel I set my face against it as an act of enmity to the United States and I had only to remind the king that friendship with the United States was a policy traditional with Prussia from the day of Frederick the Great ' In lesser matters Bismarck was usually staunch He denounced and rebuked his own officers in Samoa sooner than to create acts leading to a possible quarrel with the United States

PHOTOGRAPHY IN COLORS.

A Discovery That May Cause a Revolution in Camera Work

LONDON March 30 —[Special Telegram]—More complete reports from Klosterneuburg in Austria, where a photographer named Verress [illegible] a month ago hit upon the discovery of photography in colors show the event to be more important and definite than was at first thought. Specimens both on glass and on paper have now been exposed to the light for three weeks and are in no way affected The colors obtained range from deep clear ruby red to light orange and there is also a brilliant French blue but thus far no suggestion whatever of green no variations of blue and no approach to violet or brown Viennese professors are much impressed by the discovery, and are confident we are on the eve of a revolution in camera work

QUEEN VICTORIA'S RHEUMATISM

Great Britain's Sovereign Undergoing Treatment at Aix-les Baines

LONDON March 30 —Queen Victoria is undergoing treatment at Aix les Baines for rheumatism She is taking baths regularly and spends an hour every day swathed in flannel bandages with a towel tied around her head Those who have seen her reclining on her bed after her bath wrapped up to the chin and looking thoroughly uncomfortable find it hard to realize that she is queen of Great Britain and empress of India. Her rooms are in the second story of the hotel annex and are eight hundred feet above sea level The air and baths of Aix have always benefited her but she is suffering at present from the most obstinate case of rheumatism she has ever experienced Siam's Sacred White Elephant.

Bangkok Letter

As far back as the sixteenth king of the first dynasty of Siamese rule one of the kings assumed the title of King of the White Elephant, and ever since it has been considered one of the proudest titles of each succeeding monarch It is a mistake in supposing, however, that the Buddhists of Siam regard or look upon the white elephant as a deity and worship him accordingly By their teaching each successive Buddha in passing through a series of transmigrations must, of course have at some time occupied the form of some white animal, and all white elephants especially are supposed to be animated by the spirit of some departed hero But, as a matter of fact, there are no real white elephants. During a visit to the king's palace with the Hon Jacob Child, United States minister to Siam, we, of course, saw the so-called white elephant now on duty at the palace, but he is not white at all. He is a common looking, medium sized elephant without tusks—of a yellowish pink color—and he looks as if for years he had been troubled with some disagreeable skin disease And this was the celebrated white elephant of Siam You can see far better specimens of this kind in any circus in America, and almost with the same color too if only you will let him roll in a huge mud pond once in a while. In the timber land of Upper Siam, or the Laos country, hundreds of these huge beasts are used in hauling great timber logs to the mills, and they show an intelligence and aptitude for the work which are really marvelous. Whenever the king leaves the palace on state occasions twenty or thirty huge elephants lead the procession Their trappings at such times are costly in the extreme. The adored white elephant from the palace is loaded with costly gifts and beautifully embroidered silk coverings and on these occasions the people do bow down and worship him—but not as a deity

A Matrimonial Conductor.

New York Star

Now and then I run across Assistant Passenger Agent Harrington of the Chicago & Northwest, who revealed to me in the corridors of the Windsor hotel the other evening, a new title in the railroad world, namely, that of a matrimonial conductor Turning to a tall handsome fellow six feet high, with jet black mustache and goatee Mr Harrington informed me that the stranger was Tommy Hanlon, who had been voted by his directors a three months' leave of absence Hanlon is an employe of the Louisville Southern, and has had charge of over one hundred bridal parties during the past winter. His duties are particularly arduous for apart from his routine work he is always placed in charge of the special car containing the bride and bridegroom From the moment the train starts until it reaches its destination his services are in constant request and he is plied with innumerable questions by the happy couple In addition to his technical geographical knowledge of the bluegrass region he has to be equally proficient as a philosopher mentor and cicerone And even his astronomical lore has to be brought into play for he is often asked to point out the evening star and other minor satellites in the heavens. So great a strain is therefore deemed worthy of reward and that is why a matrimonial conductor in Kentucky can always demand a long vacation and get it

Patti's Domestic Life.

Louisville Post.

I met Grau yesterday at the Galt house and had a very pleasant conversation with him about the Queen of Song He tells me that Mme Nicolini is by no means the conceited conglomeration of melody and self esteem that her enemies would have us believe. On the contrary she is a very pleasant spoken warm hearted little woman, who feels kindly towards the world at large from whom she has received in the past some measure of unkindness and reserves a big warm spot in her affections for her friends Her voice is her fortune and she makes it pay a rich percentage, but she does not for a moment forget the obligation that she owes to the public She has never denied herself to those members of the press who are properly introduced, though she is bound to draw the line at those impecunious young men who think that a mere business card, without any indorsement whatever, is a sufficient credential for admission to her boudoir He says Mme Nicolini is an affectionate dutiful wife a good Christian woman and a thoroughly refined and cultured lady, and that her voice possesses the same flute like tones that first charmed the ears of the musical world a score and a half years ago.

Scaly Psoriasis 20 Years

A startling revelation of suffering Entire person covered with dry scales. Every morning a dustpanful, some as large as an envelope, taken from the sheets. Tried every medicine and many doctors and hospitals All thought he would die Body a mass of disease, hair dead and lifeless Suffering fearful. Cured in six weeks by the Cuticura Remedies N B—This cure was made in 1879, and has remained permanent to date, Jan. 27 1890.

Cured by Cuticura

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease called by some M Ds. Psoriasis and others Leprosy commencing on my scalp and in spite of all I could do with the help of the most skillful doctors it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started west, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich , where I had a sister living One Dr —— treated me about two weeks but did me no good All thought I had but a short time to live I earnestly prayed to die Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs feet badly swollen, toe-nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as a bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. O, my God! how I did suffer

My sister, Mrs. E H Davis, had a small part of a box of CUTICURA in the house. She wouldn't give up, said, 'We will try CUTICURA." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the RESOLVENT CUTICURA, and SOAP I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of RESOLVENT three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used CUTICURA SOAP freely applied CUTICURA morning and evening. Result returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper HIRAM E CARPENTER,

In answer to yours of Jan. 21 1890, I have to say I am and have been in uniform good health for the several years that have passed since I first used your CUTICURA REMEDIES. I believe there is no remedy or medicine prepared that will compare with them for the relief and cure of obstinate skin diseases. H E. CARPENTER,

CHARLES (the Husband)—I can't remember all that [illegible] give a most clear and scientific statement of the reasons [illegible]

DOCTOR—Well, it is hardly professional to ask such [illegible] I am inclined to think he would not be helping his practi[illegible] of the Charter Oak Stoves But as I have one in my ki[illegible] I think I can enlighten you. Of course it would take quit[illegible] to you scientifically, and we have not time for that Co[illegible] Knighted in Europe for his scientific attainments, pointed [illegible] baking and roasting meats in air tight ovens was wrong a[illegible] He asserted that it was as essential to health that our foo[illegible] as that we should breathe pure, fresh air, and that air ti[illegible] the food cooked therein became tainted and unhealthy But how to properly ventilate [illegible] was not discovered for many years after Count Rumford's time The difficulty was [illegible] fresh air to enter the oven uniformly without cooling it perceptibly, and this has been [illegible] plished by Mr Filley's invention of the Wire Gauze Oven Door The air enters the [illegible] through the wire gauze in the form of very fine jets, and as there is a large surface of [illegible] air is diffused and heated without forming air currents. Cooking [illegible] called a chemical decomposition with the aid of heat, but oxygen is as necessary as [illegible] and this is furnished by the air. Again, the meat roasted in a tight oven loses a large [illegible] its most nutritious juices, which become dried out. Ventilating the oven prevents [illegible] and the meat is cooked perfectly in the same way as broiling over a charcoal fire or roasting by [illegible] the old fashioned spit of our grandfather's time Fresh air or the oxygen furnished by [illegible] also improves the baking of bread, making it much lighter and more easily digested. [illegible] baked in a Charter Oak Stove with Wire Gauze Oven Doors will never mould, and that is very strong proof that the bread is pure and healthy

CHARLES—Thank you, doctor. I think we understand the reason much better now

FINANCE AND TRADE.

SATURDAY, March 29.

Financial.

The volume of business transacted at the Portland clearing house for the week ending March 29, 1890, was as follows:

	Clearances	Balances
Monday	$ 231,958 69	$ 61,190 87
Tuesday	248,588 55	64,031 07
Wednesday	208,441 88	49,315 18
Thursday	267,230 38	71,149 53
Friday	243,610 35	47,764 81
Saturday	227,607 10	51,613 40
Total	$1,526,438 25	$345,160 65

A comparative state of bank clearings for ten cities of the United States for the week ended March 21, as compiled by Bradstreets, shows the following:

Portland, Or	$1,516,780
Peoria, Ill	1,270,676
New Haven, Conn	1,171,861
Seattle, Wash	1,088,927
Portland, Maine	1,009,421
Birmingham, Ala	856,852
Grand Rapids, Mich	835,195
Tacoma, Wash	719,128
Syracuse, N. Y	711,750
Los Angeles, Cal	674,900

These are all cities of nearly the same population as Portland, with a few exceptions, and the showing is one that speaks well for the business activity of Portland.

Merchandise received by rail: 1 car buggies, 21 cs boots and shoes, 18 cs clothing, 19 pkgs dry goods, 7 cs hats and cigars, 12 cs books, 16 pkgs glassware, 86 pkgs tobacco, 24 cts castings, 6 cs cigars, 16 pkgs drugs, 22 pkgs medicines, 1 lot corn.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Stocks continue to show a diminishing volume of business, and the transactions to-day were in all probability the smallest on record, while fluctuations were strictly upon the same plane. The close was heavy, though final changes are in all cases insignificant.

Governments, steady.

The weekly bank statement shows a reserve increase of $915,000 and a specie increase of $1,523,-000. Cash on hand in excess of the 25 per cent. rule, $4,332,000.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

LONDON, March 29.—Consols, 97 8-16; silver bullion, per fine ounce, 43⅝; bank of England, rate of interest, 4 per cent.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Sterling exchange, long, $4 84; short, $4 87½; U. S. bonds, 4's, 122¾; 4½'s 103; silver, 95⅝.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Sterling exchange, 60 days, $4 84; documentary, $4 83¼; transfers, ⅞ premium.

MINING STOCKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Ophir, $4 40; Mexican, $3 25; Gould & Curry, $1 60; Best & Belcher, $4; Con California & Virginia, $4 55; Savage, $1 90; Chollar, $3 30; Potosi, $4 55; Hale & Norcross, $3 15; Crown Point, $3 10; Yellow Jacket, $2 30; Belcher, $2 10; Sierra Nevada, $2 85; Utah, 65c; Bullion, $1 15; Segregated Belcher, $1 35; Justice, 45c; Union, $2 25; Challenge, $1 55; North Belle Isle, $1 20; Bodie, 60c; Peer, 20c; Overman, $1 20; Alpha, $1 05; Imperial, 85c.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Produce receipts, past 24 hours: 28,600 ctls wheat, 87,300 qr sks flour, 200 ctls barley, 600 sks potatoes.

Chartered to load lumber on Puget Sound: British ship Hindostan for Valparaiso and ship Sumatra for Shanghai.

Wheat—The spot market still lacks animation. Holders are offering liberally, but buyers show no disposition to operate while the depressed condition of foreign markets continues. No. 1 shipping quoted nominally, $1 26¼@1 27½. Options quiet—Buyer year, 100 tons at $1 26⅛, buyer, season, $1 29⅛.

Barley—Offerings are smaller, while the demand shows an improvement, and the tone of the market is of a firmer character. Feed descriptions, No. 1 to choice, 77½@81¼c. Options, quiet but firmer, buyer year, 86¼c, buyer season, 81¼c.

Oats—Receipts continue light and values hold about steady. The demand is small and trading light. Quote No. 1 feed, $1 16¼@1 27½; choice, $1 27½@1 30.

Millstuffs—Steadily held; bran, $12@13; middlings, $20@22.

Potatoes—The situation presents no new features. Anticipated heavy receipts from the East, and large stocks on hand contribute a weak feeling in the market. The demand is fair and a moderate business is passing. Burbanks held from $2 50@2 65.

Hops—Dull with little business doing.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Wheat receipts, past twenty-four hours, at the principal eastern points, were 255,000 bushels and shipments were 70,000 bushels.

Wheat—A shade firmer. Prices throughout the day ranged as follows: Opening—79½c May, 79⅝c June. Noon—79⅝c May and June. Closing—79¾c March, 79¾c May, 79⅝c June.

PERSONALS.

Drs. Darrin submit the following extracts from testimonials of people cured by electricity. Further comment unnecessary:

T. L. Mills, 300 Front street, Portland—Soreness through the kidneys, liver and stomach, inflammation of the prostrate gland and catarrh of the bladder; restored to health.

A. A. Durham, Tualatin, Washington county, Or., writes that Drs. Darrin are working wonders on his kidney and bladder troubles; also rheumatism of thirty years' standing.

George B. Henry, janitor, Odd Fellows' hall, 141 First street, Portland—Chronic catarrh ten years; had despaired of ever being cured; has had no symptoms of it for months.

Mrs. Mary Cline, 253 Second street, Portland, Or. (formerly of Sauvie's island, Or.)—Complication of diseases peculiar to her sex, liver and kidney trouble, rheumatism and dyspepsia; restored.

Truman Butler, The Dalles, Or.—Chronic rheumatism and contracted joints and impoverished blood, all of years' standing; given up by all treatments until Dr. Darrin cured him.

C. V. Fowler, Yakima, W. T.—Total deafness in one ear; cured in ten minutes. Also a pterygium, or fleshy growth, was removed from the eye, which had nearly rendered him blind.

Mrs. F. E. Dewey, 361 Eighteenth street, Portland—Nervous and general debility, heart disease, dyspepsia, liver complaint and female troubles in all its various complications; permanently cured.

Mrs. S. P. McKee, 147 Water street, Portland, Or.—Catarrh eleven years, scrofulous lumps on neck and throat, paralysis of the face and optic nerve, and female troubles in their worst form.

Mrs. W. H. Austin, 191 Mill street, Portland—Confined to her room nine months with an eye affliction, called "nervous abhorence of light," accompanied with inflammation; cured.

Drs. Darrin can be consulted daily at the Washington building, corner Fourth and Washington streets, Portland, and Hotel Gandolfo, Tacoma. Hours 10 to 5; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All chronic diseases, irregularities of women, blood taints, loss of vital power and early indiscretions permanently cured, though no references are ever made in the press concerning such cases, owing to the delicacy of the patients. Examinations free to all, and circulars will be sent to any address. Charges for treatment according to patient's ability to pay. The poor treated free of charge from 10 to 11 daily. All private diseases confidentially treated and cures guaranteed. Patients at a distance can be cured by home treatment. Medicines and letters sent without the doctors' name appearing.

CALL FOR A REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

A Republican Convention for the State of Oregon, is called to meet at the city of Portland on Wednesday the 16th day of April, 1890, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of Congressman, Governor, Supreme Judge, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Superintendant of Public Instruction, State Printer, and District officers, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. The convention will consist of 218 delegates apportioned among the several counties as follows:

Baker 6, Benton 8, Clackamas 9, Clatsop 7, Columbia 4, Coos 6, Crook 3, Curry 3, Douglas 8, Gilliam 3, Grant 5, Harney 4, Jackson 7, Josephine 4, Klamath 3, Lake 3, Lane 10, Linn 10, Malheur 3, Marion 12, Morrow 4, Multnomah 35, Polk 8, Tillamook 3, Umatilla 10, Union 8, Wallowa 4, Wasco 8, Sherman 3, Washington 8, Yamhill 8.

The same being one delegate at large from each county, and one delegate for every 175 votes, and one for every fraction over one half thereof cast for congressmen at the June election of 1888. The committee recommend that the Primaries be held on April 5th, and the county conventions on April 9th, unless otherwise ordered by the proper county committee. All voters who favor the Republican policy of American markets for the products of American labor, liberal support of our common schools and the protection of every voter in the nation, in his right to cast a free ballot and have it fairly counted are cordially invited to unite in the selection of delegates to the Republican State Convention.

L. T. BARIN, Chairman,

March 5th, 1890. Republican papers please copy.

PROPOSALS FOR CITY HALL BONDS,

OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR AND CLERK OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned committee on ways and means of the common council of the city of Portland, Oregon, at the office of the auditor and clerk of said city, until Thursday, May 1, 1890, at the hour of 1 o'clock P. M. of said day, for the purchase of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars ($175,000) of the bonds of said city, known as "City Hall bonds," in denominations of five hundred dollars ($500) each, bearing date January 1, 1890, payable thirty (30) years from date, with interest coupons bearing interest at the rate of five (5) per centum per annum, payable on the 1st days of January and July of each year. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin at the office of the treasurer of said city.

These bonds are issued by authority of an act of the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, passed at its session of 1889, authorizing the city of Portland to incur an indebtedness of $175,000 for constructing and furnishing a city hall. Bonds will be delivered with coupons attached for interest from January 1, 1890, and interest will be paid to the successful bidder from such date. Proposals must be accompanied by a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by some member of the said committee on ways and means in a sum not less than ten per centum of the amount of such bonds bid, conditioned that in case a sale of the bonds bid upon or any portion thereof be ordered by the council, the bidder or bidders shall, within fifteen days from the date of such order, pay over to the city treasurer of such city, the amount so bid for such bonds, so ordered to be sold, provided that in lieu of such undertaking such proposal may be accompanied by a certified check in favor of said city of Portland on some responsible bank in the same amount as required in such undertaking, together with a written agreement signed by the person or persons making such proposal, to the effect that in case said bonds, or any of them, be ordered to be sold by the council such person or persons will, within fifteen days from the date of such order, pay to the city treasurer of said city the amount bid for such bonds so ordered sold, or forfeit and pay to the said city, as fixed and liquidated damages, the full amount of such certified check.

Proposals will be endorsed on the outside of the sealed envelope containing the same "Proposals for purchase of city hall bonds" and directed to the undersigned committee, in care of W. F. Matthews, auditor and clerk, Portland, Oregon.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved by the common council of said city.

Dated at Portland, Oregon, March 29, 1890.

OREGONIANA.

La Grande has ceased to support two papers. The Journal is no more.

The experiment of boring an artesian well at Heppner will be begun soon.

H. F. Reininger's residence in Spring Hollow, Morrow county, burned to the ground. Loss, $1000.

Mr. A. S. Jones, of Thorn Hollow, Wasco county, saved his horses and cattle during the recent snow by feeding them with flour, which was brought from Bakeoven, a distance of five miles.

The Pendleton Tribune has again changed hands, or rather fallen into old hands. J. B. Eddy, its former proprietor, who ran it in less ostentatious but more prosperous days, is again at the helm as editor-in-chief and business manager.

After careful inquiry among residents of every portion of the county, states the Wallowa Chieftain, we have concluded that stock losses in this county during the past winter will not be more than 2 per cent. of horses, 5 per cent. of sheep, and from 10 to 15 per cent. of cattle.

The famous running mare Repetta, owned by Matlock Bros., has a fine colt. Lady Duffy belonging to Thomas Malarkey, of Pendleton, has also a colt, which very much resembles its sire, Villard, and Mr. Malarkey will no doubt be proud of his latest addition to his race stock.

Mrs. M. E. Slocum, of Morrow county, has just received about $3000 back pension. Her oldest son died in the Union army in 1864, and Mrs. Slocum, being a widow, had a hard struggle to provide for her three younger sons till they became old enough to look out for themselves. She will hereafter receive $12 per month.

There is a movement on foot in Wasco county, says the Times-Mountaineer, for the erection of steam vats for the stripping of wool from pelts. By this process each individual owner can save from 50 to 75 cents on each pelt, and this will be a great increase from the price paid at points on the railroad. This new process is under the management of some Australians, who have tested it in their own country.

On Friday a distress signal was displayed at the Tillamook rock lighthouse. The schooner Louis Olsen, which was passing, was steered in as close as possible to the rock, but not near enough for the occupants of the lighthouse to be heard. Captain Johnson said the sea was breaking heavily against the rock, and he dared not venture too near. The Manzanita went out Saturday to their relief.

For many years THE OREGONIAN has been and still continues to be the source of news for the country press of the Pacific Northwest. Week after week columns of news are appropriated without any credit and without any complaint on the part of THE OREGONIAN. It simply mentions the matter now for the purpose of saying that the Heppner Weekly Gazette, one of the most ably edited papers in Oregon, does not believe it necessary to its success to sail under false colors, and takes pains to give credit for all dispatches which it clips from THE OREGONIAN'S columns.

Complaints are renewed that the Pacific Construction Company, which is building the railroad from Astoria to Hillsboro, do not pay their men promptly. Two or three engineering parties who have been working all winter in the coast mountains and forests, in snow and mud, have at last quit work and returned to Astoria, where they tell the newspapers that they will immediately bring suit to enforce their rights. They did not complain so much about not being paid up promptly, as that they were not furnished with provisions and were compelled to shift for themselves to get enough to eat.

WASHINGTONIANA.

A magnificent piece of granite has been set in the new Spokane National bank building. It stands over the main entrance and weighs over 9000 pounds.

At Walla Walla many tons of baled hay are shipped daily to points on the Northern Pacific, while baled hay for government use arrives daily from Nebraska.

Doc Barnes, of Wallula, who, in a fight with a sheep-herder, had his left eye gouged out, is now in St. Mary's hospital, at Walla Walla, and is liable to lose also the right eye.

Charles E. McElroy, of Seattle, died of paralysis Thursday night. He has resided on the Sound since 1871, and was well and favorably known all over the entire Sound country.

A paper called the Spokesman, published at Spokane Falls, accuses THE OREGONIAN of interfering in the political affairs of that city. Bosh! But an unconscious tribute is paid to THE OREGONIAN when it is charged with exerting an influence and power that are felt at so great a distance as Spokane Falls.

Plowing by steam in the Walla Walla valley is pronounced a success, and it is claimed that this improvement will greatly reduce the cost of tilling the soil and afford quite a saving to every man who farms upon a large scale. At present the farmer calculates the cost of plowing at $2 an acre, and it is claimed that plowing by steam will reduce the cost to 40 cents an acre. The steam plow with which experiments have been made turns over a rod of land with each circuit, and is guaranteed to plow 100 acres in twenty-four hours, requiring the services of six men, divided into two shifts of three men each.

The wife of A. F. Minor, of Spokane Falls, has caused her husband's arrest. She said her husband had flown into a rage in the morning and, grasping an ax, had smashed into a thousand pieces the looking-glass, and that when she ventured to remonstrate he told her that if she did not keep her mouth shut he would serve her in the same manner, as well as chop the child's head off. Mrs. Minor further stated that she was Mr. Minor's sixth wife. Minor is the same man who two years ago was up for the same offense, having on that occasion beat his sixth wife, broken up the chairs and tables and cut the feather-bed to pieces with a carving knife.

CURIOUS FREAK.

A Colt of Mr. Nichols, of Milton, Affiliates With Wild Deer.

This week's issue of the Milton Eagle contains the account of a curious circumstance that occurred a few miles from this city, and which is vouched for by one of our leading and most respected citizens. William Nichols, of Milton, when gathering his horses from the range last fall, found that a favorite Percheron colt was missing and all efforts to find him proved unavailing, so the animal was abandoned to its fate which no one doubted would be that of the vast number that have found their way into the equine paradise through the inclemency of the present unusually severe winter. During the present week Mr. Nichols, accompanied by another gentleman while hunting deer among the mountains that form the source of the Walla Walla river started a band of seventeen blacktails from a deep canyon, and to their surprise observed a yearling colt speeding away with the band apparently as frightened as the deer themselves. Although the colt had acquired their wildness by association he lacked the speed of those mountain climbers and was soon left far behind in the mad scramble over the rugged hills. The gentlemen, who were well mounted, pursued and overtook the colt, which proved to be Mr. Nichols's long lost Percheron. From the fact that tracks of the colt following the trail of the deer were seen in several instances, and other evidences that were to be seen, it is believed that it had spent the entire winter with its strange companions, and prolonged its existence by following the guidance of the excellent instinct of the deer in search of food when the snow is deep.

A Real Romance.

St. Petersburg Letter.

A very interesting wedding which cannot be aptly described as a marriage a la mode, or a love match, or even a mere mesalliance, but partakes of the nature of all three, has lately taken place in an obscure Polish village, the bridegroom being no less a personage than a Spanish grandee, the governor of the Philippine Islands, and the bride a charming, artless Polish peasant girl. The match was brought about in this way: A year ago the Spanish dignitary obtained leave of absence and paid a visit to Paris for the sole purpose of seeking for a suitable life partner in that international matrimonial mart. The qualifications required in the bride were few, but important; she should profess the Roman Catholic faith, and should have something more valuable than her face for her fortune. His vigilant eye soon fell upon a beautiful Polish maiden who, though a peasant, could boast of great worldly wealth, and was blessed with good looks, which were over and above the conditions. The Spaniard cultivated the acquaintance of this Slavonic maiden, talked with her father, proposed and was accepted. Shortly before the marriage a Polish prince, the owner of the village of Sandomir, was induced to confer by adoption upon the young lady the title of princess. After this the governor of the Philippine Islands journeyed to Russian Poland, to the government of Kelets, where, a few days ago, he was united in wedlock to the lady of his—heart. The marriage ceremony was performed by the bishop of Sandomir in the rural church of an obscure village, according to the rites of the Roman Catholic church. The little chapel was filled with peasants of every age, among whom were many of the former playmates of the blushing bride.

NEWS OF THE METROPOLIS.

An Important Meeting To-day in Regard to Terminal Facilities.

On a Sad Errand—Inquest to Be Held—Spring Is Coming—County Jail—Town Items—Etc.

A PECULIAR BRIDEGROOM.—One day last week a man connected with a logging camp near Kalama, came to the International with a very good looking young lady and took rooms. After supper he developed a very anxious countenance and asked Landlord Lewiston if he thought the county clerk could be found at that hour. "Not for business at his office, I imagine," returned his host. "His office is closed up and he lives over on Eleventh street in East Portland. But what do you want of him? Do you want to get married?" "Yes." "Well, I suppose we can fix it up for you." Tom Lewiston, accordingly was dispatched in a hack to County Clerk Powell's residence and brought that official with a blank license to the hotel. This matter was arranged, and the hack next went to the residence of Justice Wood, who in due time appeared and tied the nuptial knot. Quite an enjoyable time followed, several bottles of wine being opened at the happy bridegroom's order. In due course of time, however, the festive bridegroom was called upon to liquidate the various bills he had run up for the hacks, official services, wine and hotel fare. At this point he became decidedly uncommunicative, and would only vouchsafe the information that he had no money. In the dead of night he stole out of the house with a small hand trunk his bride, and the consciousness of having cut a very wide swath without giving any equivalent in the coin of the realm.

SPRING COMING WITH ROSY STEP.—The flowers that are wont to bloom in the spring are still rather backward about coming forward, owing to the cool weather. Rose bushes and lilacs are putting forth leaves, and the willows are showing tiny leaflets along their slender, drooping twigs. Hyacinths are added to the list of flowers blooming in the gardens, and the shrub called "climbing raspberry" is putting forth its yellow blossoms. A bunch of wake-robin blossoms or lilies, as the children call them, was seen yesterday in the hands of a lady who had been out of town on one of the motor lines. Spring lamb bloomed transiently at Zimmerman's Saturday, but the mint that should go along with it has not come out yet. The wild currant still hesitates about unfolding its pretty pink flowers, and like the peach, plum and cherry, is waiting for a few warm days to bloom forth. The winter has been so much worse than usual that everybody is anxious for warm weather and bright sunshine. A few days of this, and the long, tedious winter will be forgotten and people will be mopping their brows and saying, "Phew! Gracious, how hot it is."

"A THIEF IN THE NIGHT."—Officer Belcher arrested a young man named O. J. Jefferson, at an early hour yesterday morning for extracting about $17 from the pockets of E. Abbott. Abbott had drawn his week's wages Saturday night, and Jefferson was anxious to have him go out for "a time" to spend it. Abbott excused himself on the ground of having a headache, but as Jefferson persisted he agreed to accompany him after having the benefit of a few hours' sleep. He therefore went to his room leaving the door unlocked, and told Jefferson to wake him at 11 o'clock. Jefferson, it is alleged, went into the room while Abbott was asleep and took the money and then disappeared. When Abbott awoke in the morning his money was gone and Jefferson was no where to be seen. Officer Belcher located the alleged thief after a brief search and took him to the city jail. Jefferson is said to be an old-timer from Kansas City and none too good to steal. He will be arraigned in the police court this afternoon.

A BARREN FIELD.—It is one function of the hotel clerk to chat familiarly with his guests and to discuss with them their private business. In this way he becomes a perennial fountain of information gushing forth to gladden the reportorial heart. An exception to this rule exists in Portland, and a reporter ventured yesterday to assure him in all confidence that he was the most unproductive source of information which he (the reporter) had ever encountered. "Maybe so," replied the hotel clerk, "I have never undertaken to pry into a guest's business, and when I am traveling I never allow a hotel man to worm any information out of me as to my business. This thing of newspaper notoriety I never liked, either for myself or for others. There are a whole lot of people who never can learn that silence is golden, and that by opening their mouth they are liable to put their foot in it."

AT THE COUNTY JAIL.—The fame of Multnomah's new county jail has spread throughout the state, and many of the visitors to Oregon's metropolis take time to pay it a visit. Their impressions are not enhanced by the presence of several large breaks in the plastering of the front corridor. The commissioners have been repeatedly implored to fix it up, and have promised to do so, but so far the gaping wounds still stare the public in the face. The old part of the jail, too, which has been condemned, should be put in repair, as there is no telling how soon it may be called upon for service. The other night accommodations of the new wing were closely crowded. Its capacity is sixty-four, and sixty-three prisoners were on hand. The occasion may soon arise for more room and in such event the old part would have to be called into requisition.

ABOUT PASSING NOTES.—A gentleman formerly connected with the banking business, speaking of the forged checks passed on banks here by W. A. Hurd, says banks should not cash checks for unknown persons who simply bring some one in to identify them. Such persons should have letters of credit. So should drummers who often wish to get checks on their employers cashed. Even if there is no failure of the employer, which has sometimes happened, the bank cashing the check makes nothing and the merchant who thus pays his drummer's expenses at long range saves interest on the money from the time the check is cashed till it is presented for payment. With the well-known capacity that banks have for looking out for No. 1 it is singular that they should cash checks on which there is nothing to be made and a possibility of losing.

AN INQUEST TO-DAY.—Coroner De Lin will hold an inquest on the remains of Aage Lovgreen, the young Dane, who committed suicide by taking chloral, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. There is no question but Lovgreen was of unsound mind, as he made similar attempts on his life several times before. The ranting love letters he left are evidence of a disordered brain, and his actions for some time past led to the same suspicions. Had he lived longer, he would perhaps have done something else equally as desperate as the act of taking his own life and others would have had to suffer. With the suicidal mania firmly fixed in his mind, it would have been only a matter of time when his attempts at self-destruction would have succeeded. He is now dead and it is perhaps better for both himself, as well as others that it is so.

DISCOURSE BY REV. J. R. THOMPSON.—Rev. J. R. Thompson, D. D., of Vancouver, occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church of East Portland, last evening. His text was selected from John iii:16, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The sermon touched on the following topics: Jesus Christ, the only begotten son of God; the possibility of a human soul perishing forever; the everlasting life and glory of a saved soul; the tremendous difference between lost and saved souls depending upon such a small matter as believing or not believing on Jesus Christ, and the wonderful love of God is the source and origin of all his dealings with mankind.

DON'T BLOCKADE THE SIDEWALK.—It has been frequently remarked on the streets that some women have erroneous ideas regarding their rights on sidewalks. The class of women referred to are those who make their calls on the streets. Groups of them stop to talk and discuss the latest sensation, much to the inconvenience of pedestrians. Sometimes two women wheeling a baby carriage each block the sidewalk so effectually that when they stop to exchange a few words of gossip other pedestrians have to step off the walk in order to get by. A little consideration for the rights of others would be appreciated by those who find occasion to refer to this matter.

SUITABLE TERMINAL FACILITIES.—The high officials of the Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific who have the matter of providing suitable terminal facilities for this city will have another meeting to-day. While nothing definite in the matter has been agreed upon, and all concerned decline to discuss the prospects or to give any information in regard to the subject under consideration, it is known that all desire to have the matter settled, and there are good grounds for believing that an arrangement will be arrived at which will be satisfactory to all the companies and to the city of Portland.

SHIPMENT OF LUMBER.—Mr. L. C. Shorno, who has the contract for building the bridge on North Front street, has received a large load of lumber, to be used in its construction, from Independence, Polk county. This is believed to be the first shipment of lumber made to this city from so far up the valley. The bridge requires a lot of 36 foot lumber, and the flood carried away the 36 foot logs from Weidler's mill, and consequently the order was given to the Independence mill.

NEW BANKING ENTERPRISE.—The incorporators of the Union Banking Company can be found at No. 25 Pine street, where those who wish to subscribe to the stock or to obtain any information in regard to the company can be accommodated. The incorporators are all well-known business men, one of them, Mr. W. V. Spencer, having been interested in getting up the Portland Savings bank, one of the most successful concerns of the kind in the country.

A SAD DUTY.—Rev. J. R. Thompson, of Vancouver, Wash., passed through Portland last evening on his way to Olympia to conduct the funeral services of the late General Milroy. Dr. Thompson received General Milroy into the Presbyterian church about fourteen years ago, and some time afterward ordained him as a ruling elder of the church. General Milroy was an active Christian and an ardent prohibitionist.

THE YOUNG LADIES of the Christian church will give an entertainment and basket social Tuesday night, April 1, 1890, at the church, corner J and Tenth streets, East Portland, Or. Entertainment is free. Baskets are to be sold. Each lady who comes is expected to bring a lunch for two. All are cordially invited. Committee.

TINNERS' TOOLS.—Persons contemplating the purchase of tinners' tools or supplies will do well to get prices of Foster & Robertson before buying. *

Something About Hotel Patrons—The Tourists Are Generally the Best.

Chief Clerk Pendegast Discusses the Desirability of Different Classes—The Commercial Traveler's Friend—The Valley and Sound Trade.

It is a very cold day when Mr. John Pendegast, of the Esmond, has time to talk long to a reporter. The thermometer being rather shady yesterday, however, he was successfully drawn into conversation.

"What kind of guests do you like best?" asked the reporter.

"Well, now," said he, "I might like those the best who are not the best for the house. I have some warm friends among commercial travelers, who may not spend so much money with the house as others. The commercial men, however, who come here, are very good customers.

"The best class of trade I should consider to be the English people of means. They have a great many wants to be attended to. They must have their 'bawth,' have the bell-boy go up and open their baggage up, and want a good many changes made in this and that, but when they once learn what they can and can not have, there are no easier persons to get along with. There is a difference, of course, between the young fellows, on their first globetrot, and those who have been in the West before. The first time they come they have a great deal to say, but after a second or third trip, they take things very pleasantly—just as they find them.

"The German tourists are not half so easy to please. They have all manner of kicks to make, and very often succeed in making life quite a burden to us.

"The local country trade we have, in which category we include Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, is very good. They pay bills without any grumbling, and are the very cream of the valley, Eastern Oregon and Sound trade. Many of them are quite friendly with us. They come in, throw their valise down and go off. We know just what they want, and half of the time register their names and assign their rooms without consulting them at all.

"The Hebrews! No, we don't have any kickers. They have a good many visitors inquiring for them of course, but the most we have are old patrons of the house. Several families of high standing up the valley come here, and no one could ask for any more pleasant customers."

"How about these tourist parties?"

"Well, you can put them and the theater people into one category. There is no trouble with them, for their arrangements for rates, etc., are all made beforehand by their manager. Since the Marquam Grand opened, quite a number of theatrical people are cared for at houses near the opera house. But as a general rule, the manager comes around and gets from the different hotels a statement of what rates he can make. Often he puts himself and a few of his best people here and the support at a cheaper house. This arrangement is generally made by the management of the excursion parties. About 60 per cent. of these excursion people have plenty of money, and pay for the best accomodations; the remaining 40 per cent. are what you might call 'cads'. They want to make a whole lot of trouble, and generally succeed in doing so.

"We have quite an amount of remonstrance, as I suppose all hotels here do from Eastern people about the get up of meals. We run, as you know, upon the American plan, giving breakfast, luncheon and dinner. Eastern people who look for the American plan, and most of them do, want breakfast, dinner and then supper. They are used to a roast at noon and a steak at night. The coast practice is different, having a lunch at noon and the principal meal at night. There are a few, of course, accustomed to the swell life of New York and Washington, who are accustomed to this arrangement, but it sits unpleasantly on a great many."

THE RECENT RAILROAD DECISION.

The importance of the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the railroad cases from Minnesota calls for a clearer and fuller statement of the terms, bearing and scope of the opinion than was furnished by the telegraphic reports of last week. The deliverance of the court is one that will have great effect on the course of state legislative action.

The state of Minnesota by act of the legislature created a railway commission with full powers to make rates for the railways of the state. It was authorized to annul the rates made by any road and to substitute its own rates throughout, and the road was obliged by law to accept these rates and was allowed no appeal. That is, the road was not permitted to plead that any rates the commission might make were not just and reasonable, and if the commission chose to make rates that were unjust and unreasonable the road could have no legal redress. One road was ordered to reduce its charges for switching cars from $1 50 to $1. The company offered to prove that this was below the actual cost of the service, but the commission insisted upon its right to determine arbitrarily, finally and without appeal what rates were reasonable, and the state supreme court upheld the commission in this claim. Another road was ordered to reduce its charges for carrying milk from country stations to Minneapolis and St. Paul. The road attempted to show that at the rates made by the commission the service could not be performed without loss, but the state supreme court again held that the decision of the commission was final. The last of these cases was appealed to the supreme court of the United States, where the doctrine of the supreme power of a commission to fix rates and compel acceptance of the same, even though the rates made were unjust and unreasonable, was reversed.

Justice Blatchford of the supreme court of the United States said: "The construction put upon the statute of Minnesota by the supreme court of the state must be accepted by this court for the present purposes as conclusive." He found, therefore, that the supreme court of the state had held that:

> Under the statute the rates published by the commission are the only ones that are lawful, and therefore, in contemplation of law, the only ones that are equal and reasonable, and hence in a proceeding for a mandamus under the statute there is no fact to traverse except the violation of law in not complying with the recommendations of the commission. In other words, although the railroad company is forbidden, to establish rates that are not equal and reasonable, there is no power in the courts to stay the hands of the commission if it chooses to establish rates that are unequal and unreasonable. This being the construction of the statute to which we are bound in considering the present case, we are of opinion that so construed it conflicts with the constitution of the United States in the particulars complained of by the railway company. It deprives the company of its right to a judicial investigation by due process of law under the forms and with the machinery provided by the wisdom of successive ages for the investigation judicially of the truth of a matter in controversy, and substitutes, therefor, as an absolute finality, the action of a railroad commission, which, in view of the powers conceded to it by the state court, cannot be regarded as clothed with judicial functions in possessing the machinery of a court of justice.

But, even under the Minnesota law, the carrier has a right to make equal and reasonable charges for transportation. Now is the question of reasonableness to rest with a state commission, without right of appeal, or is it a question for judicial investigation, requiring due process of law for its determination? This was the question before the supreme court of the United States. Justice Blatchford, delivering the opinion of the court, said:

> If the company is deprived the power of charging reasonable rates for the use of its property, and such deprivation takes place in the absence of an investigation by judicial machinery, it is deprived of the lawful use of its property, and thus, in substance and effect, of the property itself without due process of law and in violation of the constitution of the United States, and in so far as it is thus deprived of what other persons are permitted to receive, reasonable profits upon their invested capital, the company is deprived of equal protection of the law.

The St. Paul Pioneer-Press, in an article stating the force and effect of this opinion, says: "It does not deny to a state the power to regulate railroads, but does deny its power to destroy them;" that "rates may be regulated within the limits of what is reasonable and just, but what is reasonable and just is not a question for a state commission to determine, but a question of fact to be determined by judicial investigation."

The Chicago Tribune points out the fact that Minnesota has sought to compel her railroads to accept unreasonably low charges, and that this decision merely goes to the extent of reversing or defeating an unjust policy. The Tribune says: "Illinois and Iowa have not sought or endeavored to compel their railroads to accept unreasonably low charges, but only to be satisfied with such as are reasonable and just. These states have not claimed any sovereign authority to compel carriers to haul freight at a loss or for less than a fair compensation. The decision of the supreme court supports fully such maximum rate railroad laws as those of Iowa and Illinois. Railroad commissions can fix rates and the carriers must obey them until they are prepared to show that the charge is unremunerative. Rates can be advanced whenever it is shown that they will not pay the cost of moving the freight and return a fair profit on the capital invested in the line on the basis of true valuation. The decision does not impair the power of a state to secure fair and reasonable rates, but merely denies that it can compel a railroad to carry freight at less than cost or without profit. The decision is eminently just, whether looked at from the standpoint of the carrier or the shipper." The point to the decision is that the reasonableness of charges is a question for judicial inquiry. Otherwise a legislature or a commission might deprive persons of their property without due process of law, which the constitution of the United States expressly forbids.

EXCHANGE OF COMPLIMENTS.

Los Angeles has experienced so severe a reverse that we cannot wonder that her newspapers are taking a friendly interest in depreciating the advantages offered in the states of Oregon and Washington.

The Los Angeles Herald remarks that "for two years past the country has seen an unusual and febrile movement of population to Oregon and Washington." "Febrile" is good. Los Angeles is describing the sensation she experienced, and imagines we have the same. But this Northwest is a country of resources. It has room for millions of people and they are able to find here better sustenance than oranges. Not that oranges are not very good, but most people require something more substantial than oranges. The Los Angeles journal grants that we have "a rude plenty" here in these states. That no doubt is the reason why so many people have been coming here from Southern California. But we have both a rude plenty and a plenty that is not rude at all. A rude plenty is the basis of a refined plenty, the which the denizens of the Southern desert lack.

By the Los Angeles journal our climate is described as a hideous one—"a region of almost perpetual rain"—"the most execrable climate on the face of the earth." In view of the notorious fact that the past winter has been a worse one in California than upon any other portion of the Pacific coast, and that at Los Angeles there has been an almost constant downpour of rain, with high winds and deep and sticky mud during the past six months, this talk against the climate of Oregon and Washington is quite phenomenal as an overflow of gall. But the other side of the picture will soon be presented in California. The country, particularly in the southern part, will soon be burning up with drouth. There will be a water famine for months, and perhaps not again for five years will there be rain enough to make grass grow, and when it does rain there will be another excessive downpour. Meanwhile we have our regular seasons and never-failing crops in Oregon and Washington.

But we are told that Los Angeles has "a greater population than Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane Falls and Port Townsend put together, with margin enough to take in Sacramento or San Jose beside." It is doubtful, in fact, whether Los Angeles contains as much population as Portland alone. Its bank exchanges are about one-third those of Portland, and though it has quite a population, a large proportion are sick people from the East, who are disgusted thoroughly with the badness of the weather during the past winter at a place which had been advertised as a health resort, with dry air and sunny skies.

But our own country is good enough; we needn't depreciate any other. The time is rapidly approaching when Oregon and Washington will take the lead of California in population, energy, industry and wealth; and the "rude plenty" we have here will be the basis of their superiority.

THE QUALITY OF WIT AND HUMOR.

"Bill Nye" has been presented as a humorist in Portland, and has delivered two "lectures" here. For about ten years he has had some fame as a writer of ludicrous, grotesque and more or less funny things, but his humor, far from possessing any first-rate quality, bears much closer resemblance to the horse play of the "funny man" of a minstrel troupe than to the touches that illuminate the pages of Thackeray. But, no doubt, the average admirer of Nye will answer that he must be a humorist, since he makes money and crowds go to hear him. That logic is poor, because crowds go her around the cart of a street "fakir" or quack doctor, and yet every man of sense knows that from a scientific point of view the successful quack is nothing but an impudent, successful charlatan who imposes upon the ignorant, the credulous, or those so demoralized by fatal disease that, like drowning men, they catch at straws. Hodge's razors sold rapidly, but they would not shave because they were primarily made to sell. So it is with the "fun" of Mr. Nye. It is not legitimate humor, wit or fun, but it sells and finds its ready market, not among people who have the capacity to emit fun, humor or enjoy it in others, but among the crowd who are never witty, never humorous themselves, never read a book of genuine wit or humor, but indulge in inextinguishable laughter over anybody who can make grimaces, play contortionist, and incarnate the genius of what is simply the grotesque as distinguished from what is in an intellectual sense true wit and humor. A fall on the ice makes the crowd roar. Why? Not because the thump on the ice is a stroke of wit or humor, but because the fallen man is for the moment placed in an embarassing situation. Every clown roars when this situation takes place, but that same clown could not comprehend Falstaff, Sancho, Rabelais, Voltaire, Swift, Hood, Sydney Smith, Lamb, Holmes or Lowell; and this for the simple reason that true wit and humor, that is, the pleasantry that is of permanent life, must deal with the intellectual, permanent side of human nature. The alleged wit and humor of "Bill Nye" bear the same relation to real wit and humor that the true artistic comedy, that of Jefferson and Florence, bears to the burlesque of Dixey. A burlesque is a mere accumulation of cheap "gags," puns, etc. It rises in a night and dies the next day; but a great comedy is as immortal as human nature. Your true humorist and legitimate "funny" man is not a quack, mistaking the capacity to make an audience laugh by a mental grimace or a contortion for the gift of genuine wit or humor. A real humorist is a man who uses his gifts as mere condiments to the expression of excellent thought; but your quack humorist is one who strings his jokes like beads, not to illustrate thought, not to point a moral or adorn a tale, but to make his quips and cranks constitute the whole of his purposeless theme. Pepper and salt add relish and flavor to food, but nobody of sense wants to dine on the Castor of Cayenne or the Pollux of black pepper.

The weakness of "Bill Nye" is manifest in this that there is no sentiment, no thought, no really strong satire underlying his alleged humor. It is intended for men who have no real sense of wit or humor, but think because they can laugh or make somebody else laugh they must be funny. The proof of this lies in the fact that the men who are recognized as having a capacity for humorous thought and expression never care to hear Mr. Nye, because he becomes more wearisome with his mental grimaces and contortions than the "funny" man of a negro minstrel show. Nye's humor is that set forth by Shakespeare in his professional court fools, clowns and jesters. He grins through the horse collar for a prize before the public, and the crowd that think negro minstrel humor delightful drop their dollar in his hat; but to call such a jester "the great American humorist" is an outrage on the dictionary. The permanent and the important in life are capable of being illustrated, defined and developed by true wit and humor, but the wit and the humor are always incidental to the argument. The cheapness of Nye's quality is shown by the multitude of his imitators. He is as easy to imitate as the trochaic measure of Longfellow's "Hiawatha." The man who wrote—

> Buckwheat pancakes; Oh, my gracious
> Oh, my gracious, buckwheat pancakes,

Was not a poet, but he thought he was because he had re-perpetrated the metre of "Hiawatha." So with "Bill Nye;" he is easily understood by the crowd that think a man who stands on his head a humorist, and a man who can squeal like a pig or crow like a cock, a wit.

The truth is that America has been accurately described as a country where the first object of universal worship is a man who makes money; and the second object of deification the man who does not make money and never will make money, but is envied because he is a "funny man." The fun of this "funny" man, will be found on inspection and dreary experience to be no "fun" at all, except in the sense of mimicry, grimaces and contortions. The professional "funny" man is always "reminded of a little story," and his story is generally as heartless and pointless as Nye's best card: his story of the bereaved father, who resolved to keep the grave of his dead soldier-son green "if he had to paint it." There is no wit or humor in this; it is nothing but brutal cynicism, grinning over the best sentiments of human nature. A man who could call this a "joke" would relish smutty stories at the funeral of his best friend, and recite brutal reminiscences over his grave. Mr. Nye could profit by a lesson from Colonel Ingersoll, a man of notable wit and humor, who, however, always uses these gifts as condiments to his speech and never subordinates his thought, his arguments or his sentiment to his wit, humor and satire. Ingersoll as a lawyer has found out that while wit and humor are, like memory, hand-maids to thought and argument, they are only respectable when they are subordinated to the advocacy and illustration of what is permanent and important. Nye, by his utter purposelessness and incapacity to mingle wit and humor with thought and sentiment, is vastly inferior to Mark Twain, who writes a deal of sound sense, has fine descriptive powers and underneath his satire has a distinct and valuable purpose. But Nye belongs to the school of alleged humorists, who make men laugh, not by appealing to their brains, but to their boyish sense of amusement that manifests itself when they watch the antics of a flatulent colt or the gambols of a "trick" mule. Mr. Nye is a successful "showman," but he is not a successful humorist, for if he were humor would become obsolete. The Duke in "As You Like It" says of Touchstone, who as a humorist had not touched the philosopher's stone, "He uses his folly like a stalking horse and under the presentation of that he shoots his wit." The source of wit of the Nye quality was never better described.

As continental Europe is a vast military camp, and as improvements are continually being made in fire arms, each nation is obliged to throw aside old arms and furnish its troops with the most modern and effective weapons: and this in itself is a very expensive business. Germany has recently replaced the "needle guns" with which she fought Austria in 1866 and France in 1870, with a new rapid-fire rifle, and the old weapons have been stored away. These, with other obsolete patterns, amounting to millions in number, are encumbering the armories, and the government is seeking a way to dispose of them. It is intimated that it has taken a hint from England, which has long carried on a thrifty trade in old firearms with the natives of Africa and Asia. This is thrown out as a possible solution of Germany's intense desire to get a footing in Africa. To conquer territory in order to unload back-number firearms is something novel in international ethics, but it has a plausible sound. We used to do the same thing differently in the United States. We kept the antique muskets for our army and sold the most improved weapons to the Indians to kill our soldiers with. We should be doing the same still, only we no longer have Indian wars.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, advocating admission of raw materials free of duty, says that the cost of raw materials will probably exceed 65 per cent. of the total product, while the average cost of labor in all industries is 26.48 per cent. The argument therefore is that on $100 worth of goods only $26 48 worth of the product needs protection. This is reasoning solely and purely from the Eastern standpoint. How are the raw materials, the wool, the iron, etc., obtained. Are they not also products of labor? Does not the labor that produces them need protection as much as the labor that finishes the goods? Of 65 per cent. figured in New England as the cost of raw materials nearly the whole is labor, and the cost of the materials simply represents the labor expended on the materials before they reach the hands of the manufacturer.

The rupture between the emperor of Germany and the iron chancellor is not yet fully understood, nor is it likely to be while the young despot can succeed in his present plan of muzzling the press and punishing individuals who have the courage to express their convictions. All the soft solder of the emperor's public letter cannot disguise the fact that there was a quarrel, and that the young emperor, with his increasing arrogance, forgot the respect due to the gray hairs of the man who, far more than any emperor, has built up the German empire. Emperor William would have had a more peaceful and honorable reign had he sat a willing pupil at the feet of Bismarck and listened to the voice of wisdom. The increasing dissensions in the reichstag already give evidence of his error.

Two or three so-called newspapers of Washington are trying to prevent or arrest the circulation of THE OREGONIAN in that state. Their efforts are merely such tributes as journals of their stamp can pay to the immense superiority of THE OREGONIAN as a newspaper. Washington has several good newspapers, but no one of them is read by so many people of that state as read THE OREGONIAN, nor has the circulation of THE OREGONIAN in Washington ever grown so rapidly as it is growing now. Washington is fast becoming a great state, and naturally appreciates the most complete newspaper in the Northwest.

Edward Atkinson's new book on "Industrial Progress" contends "that the conversion of corn into pork is an absolute and total waste of nutritious food, and the farmers would be better off without the pork, there being plenty of other food." Nevertheless man cannot live by bread alone, least of all perhaps by corn bread. And this reminds THE OREGONIAN to say that right here in Oregon and Washington our farmers ought to convert wheat, oats, peas, corn, potatoes and whatever else will make pork into pork, so that we may stop the waste of carrying pork, hams, bacon and lard from Iowa and other Mississippi valley states.

A company owning 1,000,000 acres on the Rio Grande, below El Paso, is about to construct a canal on each side of the river for a distance of 300 miles, making 600 miles in all, for irrigating purposes. Two millions of dollars have been paid in. The canal on either side will be about twelve miles from the river-bed, and in some places 1500 feet above it. It is the intention to put into cultivation a vast tract of country, which will produce semi-tropical fruits and vegetables equal to those of Southern California. Three years will be required for completion of the canals.

Oregon boys who go to Eastern colleges always reflect credit upon the educational institutions of their home state. Portland has sent out several young men who have taken high honors, and this year it is noted that Mr. James J. Charlton, a graduate of Albany collegiate institute, has been elected president and chosen valedictorian of the graduating class at Princeton this year. Mr. Frank Propst, also of the Albany college, stands high in the junior class at Princeton.

Spring has come. There can be no doubt about this. Not because it is so denominated in the almanacs, nor because the saloons have hung out bock beer signs, but because two Missouri weather prophets have united in predicting violent storms with frost and snow during April. If there ever was a chance for fair weather, it is right now, in the coming month of April.

When Stanford introduces his bill to lend money from the treasury at a nominal rate of interest some senator ought to move an amendment to the effect that in order to provide the money Mr. Stanford be requested to pay into the treasury the thirty or forty millions of dollars loaned to the senator's railroad.

The state of Illinois contains 13,496 miles of railway, including sidings. The earnings of all the roads of the state last year were $63,170,096. There were 557 persons killed and 1706 injured on railway lines in the state during the year. The greater number of these were employes.

There will be a pretty lively republican primary in Multnomah county next Saturday. That will be the opportunity for every good man to exert an influence upon the destinies of the state.

PERSONS WORTH KNOWING ABOUT.

Mrs. Thomas J. Jackson has applied for a pension for the services of her late husband, General "Stonewall" Jackson, in the war with Mexico.

General Caprivi, the new German chancellor, is an inveterate smoker and a moderate drinker. He manifests a marked preference for wine over beer, which he touches rarely and sparingly.

The blow has fallen. Private Dalzell is a full-blown candidate for congress in an Ohio district. Between Foraker, the democratic gerrymander and Private Dalzell, Ohio is in a peck of trouble.

P. T. Barnum, who has just returned from England, modestly tells a reporter: "I never met with such expressions of delight, and from princes, dukes, earls, and lords, too. They were all greatly pleased with me."

The recent death of Mme. Pommery, of "Pommery Sec" fame, will startle quite a number of prohibitionists who have "pointed the finger of scorn" at "that wicked Mr. Pommery," believing the eminent wine importer to be a man.

Sam Jones seems to have been more offensive down in Texas than usual. At Tyler he said "dancing girls look like tadpoles and fashionable girls look no more like God Almighty's women than a Chinaman looks like a salt mine."

Prime Minister Crispi is a millionaire, though the poorest among Italian revolutionary exiles thirty years ago. His enemies accuse him of having grown wealthy at the cost of the state treasury; and his friends say lucky speculations and shrewd investments yielded him his fortune.

Ex-Emperor Dom Pedro, who is staying at Cannes, constantly walks and drives in the neighborhood, and his manner, though melancholy, is said to be composed. No restraint is placed upon his actions, and to all appearance his general health is better than it was on his visit to Cannes two years ago.

Bismarck will be 75 April 1, and it is now just nineteen years since he was elevated to the rank of prince. It is well known that for some time previous to its advent the chancellor viewed the approach of 1890 with apprehension, and some of his friends have asserted that he regards this year as a "crisis" one for him.

Emperor William still retains the French cooks that ruled the kitchen of the imperial palace under his late grandfather, but he positively refuses to allow their French bills of fare to be put before him. The cooks draw up the day's list of dishes under their French names, and these are translated into German for his majesty's table.

General Caprivi, the new German chancellor, on entering the palace vacated by Prince Bismarck, said: "I shall not probably remain long here; it would be impossible for me to sacrifice my honest opinion at the caprice of the crown." The general evidently does not expect his new job to turn out a "snap." No one who works under William nowadays enjoys that luxury.

Robert Browning's will, dated February 12, 1864, was witnessed by Tennyson and F. T. Palgrave, and left all of his property to his son, the artist, Robert Barrett Browning, save a charge of $1000 a year to Miss Browning, the poet's sister. The gross value of the personal estate in the United Kingdom is sworn under $84,000, but there is also property in Italian stocks and real estate. This was chiefly inherited money, well invested.

Personal Mention.

M. L. Bergman has gone to the Sound on business.

Judge John W. Shelton, of Union, was in the city yesterday.

Chief Engineer W. H. Kennedy, of the Union Pacific, left for Tacoma last night.

Mr. George H. Stevenson, of Cascades, Wash., a member of the Washington legislature, is at the Esmond.

B. F. Giltner, of Salem; Ira Dodson, of Warrendale, and J. W. Seaborg are among yesterday's arrivals at the St. Charles.

Mrs. L. P. W. Quimley and her son Elmer have gone to Southern California. They will visit leading points of interest there, and be absent for a month or six weeks.

Senators A. T. Farris of Whitman county, J. M. Snow of Douglas county, and Jacob Hunsaker of Klickitat county, and Representative A. K. Clark of Spokane county, all members of the first legislature of Washington, arrived from Olympia yesterday. They are on their way home. Messrs. Hunsaker, Farris and Clark, were accompanied by their families.

Oregonians Abroad.

Under date of New York, March 24, Mr. S. C. Beckwith sends the following note: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cardwell, of your city, were visitors to the Eastern office of THE OREGONIAN this morning, and it afforded me pleasure to furnish them with the late copies, which they greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

PEOPLE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Chairman Smith, of the Transcontinental Railway Association, is in the city.

C. L. Battelle, of Portland, is at the Grand hotel, and W. H. Moore, of Seattle, at the Palace.

C. W. Remsburg and Mrs. A. Stewart, both of Seattle, and Mrs. Bltner, of Oregon City, are at a down town hotel.

E. P. Rogers, assistant general freight and ticket agent of the Southern Pacific Company lines in Oregon, is again in the city.

George A. Dorris, a lawyer of Eugene, and George F. Craw, manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, of the same place, arrived at San Francisco on the last steamer from Yaquina bay. Both will leave for the South in a day or two. Dorris will continue on to Texas on business, and Craw will stop in Southern California for a few days.

SPIRIT OF THE NORTHWEST PRESS.

DEDUCTION FOR INDEBTEDNESS.

East Oregonian: We are well aware the deduction for indebtedness is a source of great abuse, and that the rich take advantage of it to escape taxation, and therefore we are in favor of its repeal, but not without giving debtors fair notice and opportunity to accommodate themselves to the new law. For this purpose we would allow deductions of all indebtedness on notes and mortgages already contracted up till the time they became due; also we would suggest deduction of only 50 per cent. of the indebtedness the first year after the law went into effect, and thereafter none except as above stated on obligations not yet matured.

THAT JEWEL CONSISTENCY.

Heppner Gazette: There is a general demand for a repeal of the mortgage tax law and the exemption of indebtedness. The advocates justly claim that the tax comes from the borrower, yet the same persons would denounce a law which would permit counties and cities to issue bonds, free from taxation, for money borrowed for public purposes which come from the taxpayer. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

LIFE SAVING STATIONS.

Wallowa Chieftain: The superintendent of the life saving service has declined to report favorably on bills to establish stations at Tillamook and Siuslaw on this coast, on the ground that no lives had yet been lost there. That superintendent is a twin brother to the farmer who locked his barn door after his horses had been stolen.

BUT THEY WILL TRY.

Baker City Democrat: The outlook for the democracy is bright, but this does not argue that every old political stage horse or broken down ward striker, every crank or every crazy office-hunter, can strike "that tide in the affairs of men which leads to fortune" by thrusting themselves on the ticket.

A HEAVY PRICE FOR STATEHOOD.

East Oregonian, 29th: The Olympia legislature adjourns to-day, having done many things that it should not have done, and left undone many things it should have done. An extra session in a few weeks is probable. Washington is paying a pretty heavy price for statehood.

ASTORIA IS CONTENT.

Columbian: Astoria will have her little railroad to Seaside in operation soon, and with work progressing on the Hillsboro branch to the Willamette Valley the people here do not care "whether school keeps or not."

THE THIRD PARTY A FIFTH WHEEL.

Times-Mountaineer: Two parties are necessary in any free government, but a third party must be placed in the same category with the proverbial fifth wheel to a coach.

BUT HE SAID HE WOULDN'T TAKE IT.

Baker City Democrat: It is confidently stated by his friends that Governor Pennoyer will walk off with the democratic nomination without any opposition.

THOSE SHEEP PELTS.

WALLULA, Wash., March 26.—[TO THE EDITOR.]—A report reflecting on Justice Martin, of Wallula, is in THE OREGONIAN of March 23. Justice Martin's character is above reproach or slander here at Wallula, but it were well to stop at once all such slanders.

Much misrepresentation about the arrest and trial of the five squaws is also sent abroad. The facts are both Mr. Adams and Mr. Ash entered complaint that the squaws had taken sheep pelts from Mr. Adams's fence and sold them at ridiculously low figures to parties in town. Mr. Adams has to be absent at the trial, so Mr. Ash's name alone appeared on the warrant. The facts of the case were clearly proved and Justice Martin gave the lowest possible sentence allowed by the law. Chief Homily now says the squaws were put up to the job. If so, complaint ought to be made against the parties. It is reported he said that Mr. Ash gave consent to take the sheep pelts. Certainly he did not to take them from the fence, and the complaint and evidence go to show that this was done.

I learn that the telegram about Hunt buying forty acres of Reid has no foundation in fact. The telegram was sent with too little investigation of the matter.

J. C. STEELE.

The Sugar Boodlers.

Chicago Tribune.

With marvelous assurance certain so-called "sugar conventions" at New Orleans and San Francisco have made public protest against the one-half reduction of the 80 per cent. duty on sugar as recommended by the house ways and means committee. The refiners at San Francisco and those identified with them in interest, after having enjoyed the special privilege of importing raw sugar free from the Sandwich islands for years, now have the audacity to protest that duties shall not be reduced one-half for the benefit of people this side of the Rocky mountains! They fear that if sugar is cheapened in the Eastern and Central states it may be taken to the Pacific coast and sold at rates which will interfere with their monopoly prices. What they want is to get their raw sugar free from the Sandwich islands and then have Eastern sugar kept so high-priced that it cannot be shipped beyond the Rockies and compete with the exorbitant price of their product.

The Louisiana monopolists are equally greedy and impudent in their protest. They pretend to be solicitous about the beet-sugar interest in California and to fear the "ruin" of the Eastern refiners if the duty is reduced on refined sugar, whereas they desire simply that the American people shall pay an enormous tax on fifteen ounces out of every pound of sugar they consume in order that a handful of Louisiana planters may get a bounty on the sixteenth ounce. They demand the needless taxation of 64,000,000 people that a few hundred planters and refiners may be enriched. They have so long enjoyed favoritism at the cost of the masses that they think themselves entitled to it as a matter of right. High tariff bounty has made them brazenly impudent, and their greed is not diminished a particle.

Loss of Stock in Morrow County.

Heppner Gazette.

With milder weather approaching and the disappearance of snow stockmen are better able to give clearer and more accurate estimates of losses of stock during the past extraordinary severe season. It is clearly evidenced by facts that in nearly all cases where stockmen were provided with sufficient feed and properly cared for their stock the losses were light. There were exceptions, however, where some had sufficient feed, but the heavy snows coming on suddenly prevented all efforts to drive their stock within its reach. On the contrary, stock which were held on the ranges depending on the natural herbage, where no feed could be obtained, and the snow cut off all access to the feed, the losses have been heavy. In many instances entire herds of cattle and bands of horses and sheep have been destroyed; in others perhaps a percentage ranging from 5 to 50 per cent. of emaciated and starving animals remain. Morrow county will show a percentage as small, perhaps lower, than any other county in Eastern Oregon. From the best information the Gazette has been able to obtain from various sections of the county the losses of cattle are about 25 and sheep 12 per cent. This small loss is attributed to the feed which our stockmen generally had provided for winter use.

Found Dead in His Bed.

Ellensburgh Capital.

Mr. Edward McVicker has been keeping bachelor's hall for several months in a portion of a house on Sprague street between Fifth and Sixth. A family occupied the portion of the house that he did not, and as he was rather secluded in his habits, they did not see very much of him, and when he was not seen for a few days last week they thought little of it until a very disagreeable odor attracted their attention. After trying in vain to locate it they went into his room and found his body in the bed in a fearful condition, putrefaction having made great progress. It was necessary to at once ventilate the premises and use disinfectants. It is supposed that he died four or five days before he was found, from the effects of injuries he received in a runaway last fall. He was buried, and his brother in the Big Bend was notified of his death. He was about 55 years old and was well known in this Western country.

An Anti-Climax.

Rochester Union.

There is a good joke going the rounds on a certain clergyman in Rochester who is noted quite as much for his absent-mindedness on occasion as for his general piety. He was called in not long since by a young couple whose home had just been brightened by a miniature representative of the mother's sex. The happy parents decided to have the christening at home. The minister took the child in his arms and in his kind, fatherly way addressed a few words of advice to the young couple.

"See that you train this child up in the way that he should go," he began. "Give him the benefit of a good example and see that he is surrounded by the very best influences. If you do this, who knows but that he may become a Washington or a General Grant? What is his name?"

"Jennie," demurely responded the mother.

Wealth of the United States.

New York Commercial.

The rapid increase in the wealth, business and prosperity of the United States during the last ten years is simply marvelous. The total wealth of the country is now $71,459,000,000, equal to nearly $1900 per head. This is an increase in ten years of $18,000,000,000, or 42 per cent. England's wealth in 1885 is given as $50,000,000,000, giving an average per head of $1545. The average in Scotland is $1215 per head and in Ireland $565. The total wealth of France is estimated at $36,000,000,000. England exacts in taxes $20 per head of population, while each individual in the United States pays but $12 50. America will produce 9,000,000 tons of iron this year, while England's greatest production is 8,660,000.

New Version of an Old Problem.

Chicago Tribune.

The following new version of an old yet simple mathematical problem or puzzle has been turned loose on the public by a Wisconsin paper and is the latest successor to the hen-and-a-half problem of diabolical memory:

"Ole Olson has a cow for which he paid $33. He sells the cow to John Brown for $35. Brown became sick of his bargain and sells her back to Olson the same day for $30. How much has Olson made by the transaction?"

Have Had Enough of Cleveland.

New York Sun.

His strength in the state of New York has already been amply demonstrated, and shown to be nothing but weakness. In 1882 for governor he had 192,000 majority. In 1884 for president he had 1047. In 1888 even this trifling majority had disappeared, and was converted into a minority of over 14,000. Further experiment is unnecessary; and, besides, the New York democracy are radically opposed to his nomination for any office. They have had enough of him.

That Isn't the Way of the World.

Why couldn't all these good things have been said of General Crook before he died?

FROM THE SUNNY LAND

Return of Judge Deady and Wife From the Islands.

HIS HEALTH MUCH IMPROVED

A Misunderstanding That Will Probably Lead to Litigation.

NEW CITY DIRECTORY JUST OUT

Local Sporting News—Silcocks, the Missing Man, Thought to Have Been Seen at Pendleton—Balloon Ascension.

Judge Matthew P. Deady and wife arrived home from their visit to the Sandwich islands late Friday night. They greatly enjoyed themselves, and Judge Deady has been much benefited by it. He says the islands are a charming place to do nothing in; the climate is delightful, the temperature ranging from 70 to 80 deg., and a fine cool breeze blowing most of the time. Everybody was very kind to them, and although the judge's health was not such as permitted him to travel around much, he saw a great deal that was interesting. He promises to talk about these things when he has recovered from the fatigue of his journey and finds leisure. He says one of his greatest pleasures while on the islands was receiving THE OREGONIAN, which was read throughout carefully.

The trip from San Francisco to the islands was rather a rough one, but the return trip on the same steamer was very pleasant, and was the shortest on record, they being only six days and thirty-six minutes from pilot to pilot. In coming from San Francisco, they were delayed several hours between tunnels 9 and 10, on the upper Sacramento, by a land slide, and waited awhile at Glendale, so as to come over the new road through the Cow creek canyon by daylight, but fast time was made from Roseburg here.

The judge will open the United States district court on Tuesday, April 1, to which time it was adjourned. A large amount of business has accumulated, which he is anxious to begin upon.

THERE IS A MISUNDERSTANDING.

Mr. Alisky Not Altogether Satisfied—A Lawsuit Not Improbable.

Notwithstanding that Mr. C. A. Alisky, on his return from San Francisco, published a statement in regard to the reports which were in circulation concerning the complications connected with the attempted sale of his property at Third and Morrison streets, there are still some features connected with it which are not satisfactory to him, and which may lead to litigation.

The person who by making the offer of $200,000 for the land, and by depositing $500 as a forfeit, has been seen by Mr. Alisky since he returned from San Francisco. His name is McBride, and he told Mr. Alisky that he could not complete the purchase of the property. In the agreement between him and Mr. Alisky it was stipulated that if he failed to complete the purchase of the property he would forfeit $500 additional to the $500 he placed in Mr. Alisky's hands. This, McBride says, he has been instructed not to pay, and to recover it suit will probably be brought.

There is a misunderstanding between Mr. Alisky and C. Hirstel in regard to the note Mr. Alisky gave Hirstel for giving up his bond on the property. Mr. Alisky says he gave the note to Hirstel as security for his commission on the sale of the property if it was sold, and says Hirstel promised not to sell the note. This statement Alisky says Hirstel disputes, and claims that the note was given to him for giving up his bond on the property and he was justified in selling it. Some suspicious persons have imagined that there might have been collusion between McBride and Hirstel, but Mr. Alisky says no thought of this kind ever entered his head. An effort is being made to effect a sale of the property, so that the whole matter can be satisfactorily arranged and everybody made happy. It will require some shrewd financiering to carry this scheme out, so that no one will be dissatisfied and that all suspicions of crookedness in the transaction will be dispelled.

THE NEW CITY DIRECTORY.

A Very Excellent Publication—What the Preface Has to Say About Portland.

The Portland city directory for 1890, volume 28, has just been issued by R. L. Polk & Co. It is a model of neatness typographically, the directory of names being printed in double columns and smaller type used. The work of compiling the list of trades, professions and pursuits, directory of city and county officers, schools, churches, incorporated institutions, societies, etc., is carried out with the thoroughness which characterizes all the works of Polk & Co. In addition to the directory of Portland, the book contains directories of Albina, East Portland, Fulton, Mount Tabor, Willsburg, Oregon City and Vancouver, Wash. Below is published the preface of the directory, which gives some idea of the improvements of the city, its commerce, population, etc.:

"Since we came to this city in 1884 we have watched carefully every sign of progress, recording faithfully, so far as a directory can, all improvements and new enterprises. But not till 1890 has Portland, always rich in opportunity and resources, felt her own strength. Heretofore the influences which contributed to her growth and prosperity have been largely external, while to-day the spirit which animates every new scheme and enterprise comes from within.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The most gratifying evidence of this spirit is shown by the introduction of the cable and electric railway systems, which will soon do away entirely with the tedious and obsolete horse car. Cheap and rapid inter-city communication has done and will do more to promote Portland to the rank of cities ranging in population from 100,000 to 200,000 people than any other single influence. The lines already in operation or projected will render easily accessible for residence all the beautiful suburbs of this city. Since the last issue of this book the new hotel, opera house and North Pacific Industrial Fair building have become accomplished facts. The former is a building of which any city ought to be proud, while the latter exceeds any structure of the kind west of the Missouri river. The certainty of a Chamber of Commerce building, to cost $800,000, raised by private subscription, is another evidence of the perfect confidence her own citizens have in Portland's destiny.

COMMERCE.

In no way is Portland's supremacy as the city of the Northwest more clearly told than by saying that her wholesale trade for 1889 amounted to $118,000,000. The establishment of a line of steamers between this city and China, the opening of the Cœur d'Alene branch of the Union Pacific railway and the prospect that the Hunt railroad system will make Portland its western terminus, all mean new and permanent avenues of trade for the merchants and manufacturers of this city.

REAL ESTATE.

Portland is thoroughly progressive within the limits of wise conservatism. The spirit that fosters wild speculation finds no welcome here. As long as her capital remains in the hands of those who now control it, there is no fear of any baloon inflation or disastrous collapse of real estate values. The fact, however, that her wealthiest bankers are the largest real estate owners is a guarantee that her real estate interests will never suffer.

POPULATION.

It is always difficult accurately to estimate the population of a city that is growing rapidly. The true story will be told this year, by the census-taker. Our experience, however, in other cities enables us to estimate very closely in this respect. It may be stated confidently that in Portland, East Portland and Albina which are essentially one city, there are 85,000 people.

LOCAL SPORTING NEWS.

The Gorman-Lynn Contest—What the Fistic Experts Are Doing—Baseball—Cushion and Cue.

The next sporting event of any consequence in Portland is the ten-round sparring contest between Paddy Gorman and Billy Lynn. They signed articles to appear under the management of Jack Letcher in the Theater Royal next Friday evening and already considerable interest is centering in the outcome. As both men have been training two weeks (they expected to fight in the Mechanics' pavilion last Saturday night) they are in good condition. The men will use soft regulation gloves and the contest will be governed by Marquis of Queensbury rules. If there is no winner in ten rounds, the referee is empowered to call for additional rounds until one of the contestants is worsted.

W. P. Faulkner, the late manager of the pavilion, had two fights on hand for next Saturday, but as the building is closed by the court, neither one of them will materialize unless some other suitable place is procured. First Faulkner made arrangements with Pete Shay and Billy O'Donnell the light weights, but he afterwards seems to have forgotten this date, as he matched Con Riordon and Fracar, of Minneapolis, the heavy-weights, for the same evening. It is understood that Shay and O'Donnell are looking for some good hall and Riordon and Fracar will probably appear in some theater. Dave Flahrity is willing to meet the winner, and those who know him best say that he is able to give either one of them a good fight.

Mike Conley is still in bed with pneumonia, and Glover has returned to his home in Chicago.

THINKS HE SAW THE MISSING [illegible]

Mr. Chase Claims He Spoke to Mr. [illegible] In Pendleton Friday.

Mr. H. E. Chase, of this city, who was in Pendleton on Friday last, reports having seen Silcocks, missing bookkeeper of the First [illegible] bank, in a restaurant there on that day. [illegible] Chase has known Silcocks for years, and is confident that he was not mistaken in the man. He spoke to Silcocks, but the latter did not reply, and had his hand to his forehead as if trying to [illegible] something he had forgotten, or to collect his ideas. Silcocks was at his house after he left his cigar shop Thursday evening. He told his wife he had mislaid some bridge papers, and was going over some papers in his desk [illegible] has been suffering from pain in his head for some time past, and has walked the floor nights on account of it. There is no doubt but that he has lost his reason for the time being.

DOUBLE TRAPEZE ACT IN MID AIR [illegible]

The Most Successful Ascension of the [illegible] Made by Prof. Redmond and Adelia [illegible]

While a balloon ascension is getting to be [illegible] ordinary event, it is seldom that a woman is found with the necessary courage and nerve to attempt a pleasure jaunt among the clouds, but a feat of daring was witnessed in Portland yesterday for the first time. Miss Adelia [illegible] young lady recently arrived from Australia, accompanied Professor Redmond, the [illegible] the ascension, and while fully 2000 feet above the earth both performed some of the most [illegible] feats known to aerial gymnasts.

The square near the east approach of the [illegible] son street ferry began to fill up by 1:30 [illegible] and at 4:30 o'clock, notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the sky, the crowd numbered [illegible] 4000 people.

The balloon was inflated much more successfully than on any previous occasion. The [illegible] was dry and when the fire was started the [illegible] air ship began to fill up rapidly. It was 4:30 o'clock when Leon Girard's [illegible] was heard from the top of one of the [illegible] He announced the event, introduced the [illegible] and the daring young lady, who was attired in a beautiful costume of pink tights and [illegible] bodice, and then everything was ready for the ascension. Miss Onzalo fastened her [illegible] trapeze bar, while the professor merely [illegible] and as the word was given the balloon [illegible] with the banner bearing the magic word "[illegible] lawn" flutter in the breeze.

While the balloon was up about [illegible] feet the daring aeronauts performed the most [illegible] feats imaginable, the crowd beneath watching every move with craned necks and bated breath. As the balloon began to descend, a gust of wind struck it from the southeast, and it [illegible] though it would be carried into the river [illegible] the descent was too rapid and a landing was made in the soft mud in the gulch, just [illegible] the bridge on N street. The professor and his companion were sorry-looking objects as they emerged from the miry gulch. Their [illegible] attires were soaked in mud, and a crowd of several hundred boys followed them back as [illegible] they were new arrivals from Borneo.

EAST SIDE CENTENARY [illegible]

Some Interesting Facts Furnished by the [illegible] tary, Mr. J. A. Hines.

Mr. J. A. Hines, the secretary of the [illegible] land Centenary M. E. church, furnishes the following in relation to the proposed new [illegible] edifice:

There has been a great deal said through the various papers in regard to the building of a $50,000 church edifice by the official board of the above church, but as there has been no public action in regard to it, except the necessary preliminary steps, until last Friday night, we will now, by request of a number of the members and friends of the church, give in brief the action taken by the official meetings at different times. It has long been the talk among the official members that they needed a new church edifice, but no definite step was taken in regard to it by the board until February 27, when at a special meeting of the board the following resolution was unanimously passed:

Resolved, That we, the official board of Centenary M. E. church, assure Rev. J. W. Bushong, our pastor, that our hearts are with him in the matter of building a new church, and that he is instructed to go ahead with the subscription as he may see best until the meeting of the quarterly conference.

The pastor then went to work to see what he could do in the way of subscriptions. On the [illegible] of March another special meeting of the board was held, and the following resolution was introduced and unanimously passed:

Resolved, That we instruct our pastor to proceed at once to raise by subscription the sum of [illegible] for the purpose of building a church edifice in the place of the one we now occupy; the same to be raised by the 17th of April.

At the meeting of the third quarterly conference, held March 22, the pastor reported that he had on subscription the sum of [illegible] building committee, consisting of G. W. [illegible] John Kenworthy, James Abraham, John [illegible] and J. C. Roberts was then appointed.

At an adjourned meeting of the quarterly conference, held March 29, the building committee presented their report in regard to plans, [illegible] etc., which were unanimously adopted by the conference.

When the church is finished it will be a neat structure. The main audience-room will seat 500, without the gallery, and when the Sunday school room, class rooms and gallery, which are all on the same floor, are opened it will appear as one large room, and seat 1500 people. The church edifice will be built where the old church has stood for so many years, and will be of brick. The building committee will likely let the contracts for the excavation and the laying of the foundation in a few days.

The old church will be removed to some convenient place and used until the new one is completed, which will be done under the supervision of the building committee.

The board of trustees held a special meeting Saturday evening and appointed W. H. [illegible] Hanson and J. C. Mendenhall a committee to see about removing the parsonage and [illegible] house for the pastor and his family.

PALMER'S MADISON SQUARE COMPANY.

A special telegram from New York says: Al Hayman, proprietor of two San Francisco theaters and the Marquam Grand at Portland, sailed for Europe yesterday on the Etruria, to be gone until June 9. Under his management, Palmer's Madison Square Company will soon appear at Seattle, Tacoma and Portland. From Portland they will go to San Francisco.

New Park Theater.

To-night Caroline Gage, the clever actress, supported by the Keene Dramatic company, will begin an engagement at this house, opening in the romantic drama, "A Broken Vow." Miss Gage is said to be especially adapted for the roles she essays, but as her performances have already been witnessed here before the public is well able to judge of their merits.

The low prices that will prevail, 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents will doubtless conduce to good audiences.

Cordray's Musee-Theater.

Tonight the Musee Dramatic company will be seen in a new play, one said to be very strong and full of dramatic interest. "The Lancashire Lass" is its name, with Miss Essie Tittell, the talented young actress, in the principal role of Ruth Kirby, which is said to afford her fine opportunities for the display of her abilities.

The performance in the Musee will consist of Barnum's phantasma and the Roman gladiators, besides other special features.

HOW ANACORTES IS LOCATED.

A Correspondent Tells Something About the Surroundings of the City.

ANACORTES, March 26.—[Special Correspondence.]—Seventy days ago Fidalgo island, at the lower end of the Strait of Juan de Fuca, in the new state of Washington, was a wilderness—like the country lying to the east of it for many miles, on the main land. It was covered with a dense growth of timber. To-day the same island boasts of a city (Anacortes) of 2500 inhabitants, which population is being added to daily. There are hotels, warehouses, stores, sawmills, bank, factories, electric road, telegraph and theaters, as well as a thoroughly organized system of steamship lines to all parts. The island of Fidalgo comprises about 25,000 acres. It is separated from the main land by Swinomish slough, through which any of the Sound boats can pass at high tide, and it will be improved so that it will be navigable by the largest vessels.

On its south side is Deception pass, 300 feet wide at the narrowest point. At the inner end of this pass is located the town of Fidalgo City, now being connected with Anacortes by an electric railway seven and a half miles long. To the west is the strait and on the north a splendid channel known as "Ship Harbor," which separates it from Guemes island, Anacortes being at the south side of this harbor. Guemes island has been bought by influential capitalists, and residence sites are being eagerly sought after. This is one of the prettiest spots on the Sound. A ferry with boats is now being talked of, thus giving Anacortes a Brooklyn on Guemes island for the future New York of the coast.

Like New York, Anacortes is on an island, and the coming great city of the Pacific coast, is like the metropolis of the Atlantic side, for that reason; it has the best harbor on the Sound, it is near the straits and the ocean, and will, ere many weeks, be the busiest town on the Sound, save none. The railway is an assured fact, several miles of track laid with steel rails having been already completed and what to-day is a city of 2500 will by January 1, 1891, be an important city.

One of the questions being now eagerly discussed and agitated amongst the community is the formation of a new county, to comprise Fidalgo, Guemes and the San Juan group of islands, together with the western tier of townships on the mainland, with the county seat located at Anacortes. It is generally conceded that Anacortes would be a more central point than Mount Vernon, and much easier of access, and as Anacortes is to be the distributing point for all places down the Sound and on the islands, people visiting Anacortes as the county seat, would do business here to better advantage than at any other point.

EAST SIDE REVIVAL MEETINGS.

The following is from Rev. D. T. Richards, the pastor of the Baptist church in relation to the revival meetings in progress in that church.

The revival meetings at the Baptist church are still in progress with unabated interest. The congregations fill the house every night and there is a profound yet quiet interest on the part of the unconverted. It is not known positively how many have accepted the Saviour, nor is it known how many have manifested a special interest publicly in their own salvation. It is perhaps safe to say that not less than thirty are hopefully converted. Twenty have thus far united with the church, fifteen of whom have been baptized. Evangelist Lindsey is most excellent help. He preaches the gospel with great power, resorting to no methods which could be fairly called objectionable. He is very solicitous that people should be soundly converted, but not anxious that any others should unite with the church, in which the entire church denomination coincide with him, holding our belief that none others are qualified for so solemn a step. It is now expected that the meetings will continue a week longer at least, the interest being such that it would seem criminal to discontinue sooner.

GATEWAY TO THE INLAND EMPIRE AT THE HEAD OF COLUMBIA RIVER.

THE DALLES CITY

THE DALLES

Challenges all rivals as the Most Inviting Field for Capital and Enterprise, not only to the Investor, but to the Manufacturer, the Miner, the Railroad Builder, the Stock and Fruit Raiser, the Farmer, and, in fact, all lines of Legitimate Business.

THE DALLES is no boom town, but an old-established city, only second in importance in the state, with fine brick blocks, electric lights, manufactories, banks, mills, water works, splendid public schools, large brick academy of high grade, railroad shops, good churches of all the leading denominations, superb opera-house, etc., etc.

Imbibing the spirit of the times, DALLES CITY springs forward with new vigor, determined to keep step with the foremost in the procession. Now is the time to invest; prices are reasonable and must advance, a few reasons why:

THE DALLES is the natural distributing point for a vast country on both sides of the Columbia, greater in area than two or three of the smaller states, whose hills and mountains are rich in minerals and timber, and the prairies wonderfully productive of grains, grass, vegetables and fruits, and conversely is its banking and business center.

Is a great shipping point for stock, grain and wool.

Is practically the head of river navigation.

THE DALLES is the largest Receiver of wool from first hands in the United States.

Has immense waterpower, millions of acres of deeded and other lands cheap, ranging in price from $1.25 upwards.

Fortunes can be made in salmon fisheries.

Is the largest city on the great Columbia River.

Has river and railroad transportation.

Is on the trunk line of a great transcontinental railway.

With the projected lines reaching northward and southward will be a great railroad center.

The country is rapidly filling up and the new railroads will especially stimulate settlements.

Men of good judgment believe that city and country property will double in a short time.

Is undoubtedly the Atlanta of the Pacific. Men of capital and energy are needed.

Railroads must be built through the rich farm lands to the coal fields and timber belt, and to the rich mines at the head of Santiam and Deschuttes; already a flume 18 miles long brings lumber and wood to the city, partially supplying local needs, but an immense amount of lumber could be shipped East.

An independent line of steamers running to the seaboard should be started.

THE DALLES is just the place for woolen factories, packing houses, smelters, glass factories, etc., etc.

Nature has designated THE DALLES as the key city or converging point of the Northwest; every important district surrounding can be reached by easy grades; the scenery is grand, and now man proposes to do his part. Many new improvements will be made the present year.

In addition to the intended railroad building may be mentioned a new system of water works, more brick buildings—among them a fine brick church—street car lines, a public building by the government, residences, etc., etc.

Why invest in uncertainties, when you can buy city and country property at reasonable figures, which is perfectly safe with large possibilities. BUY IN DALLES CITY! BUY LAND AROUND DALLES CITY! COME TO DALLES CITY!

ANOTHER LIFE SAVED.

Dr. Aborn's Success Little Less than Miraculous.

GIVEN UP TO DIE

The Almost Dead is Speedily Rescued From the Hand of Death and Restored to Life and Health, in Eight Days, After Twenty Physicians had Failed.

HER VOLUNTARY STATEMENT.

PORTLAND Oregon, March 27, 1890.

To the afflicted:

Mrs J. H. Bonser being duly sworn, deposes and says:

For fifteen years I have been most SORELY AFFLICTED with CATARRH of the HEAD and THROAT, a constant sore throat, also STOMACH and LIVER AFFECTIONS. I have SUFFERED ALMOST DEATH with the most agonizing pains in my head, liver, back and stomach. I have treated with over twenty different physicians without relief. Some time ago I left my home in Columbia City and came to East Portland and stopped with my stepson Captain Bonser and commenced doctoring with a new doctor, but grew constantly worse and the doctor said he could do no more for me. So in despair I resolved to return home to die. But Mrs. Bonser insisted that as a last hope I should try Dr. Aborn, Fourth and Morrison streets, Portland, who we heard was almost raising the dead. Although not able to walk alone, with assistance I was enabled to reach Dr. Aborn's office, and as if by MAGIC, he gave me INSTANT RELIEF from my great pain and suffering and he made me walk in a few minutes, and the fourth day I came to his office alone and unassisted, and such rapid recovery from all my complications of ailments seems almost incredible, but such is the fact, thank God and through Dr. Aborn's skillful and scientific treatment. And now this being the eighth day only since I began his treatment, I am almost overwhelmed with joy that I am once more given a new lease of life. I am confident I would be dead to-day had I not applied to Dr Aborn.

I can be seen at my stepson's, Captain John H. Bonser, Third and B streets, East Portland, until I return to my home at Columbia City, Oregon.

With a grateful heart I say, May the Lord ever bless the Doctor,

Mrs. J. H. BONSER.

Sworn to before me this 27th day of March, 1890.

SOUTHERN OREGON

HOME OF THE

Fig Tree and Vine

GRANT'S PASS is located on the Oregon & California Railroad, 300 miles south of Portland and in the heart of the famous Rogue River Valley—the Santa Clara of Oregon.

GRANT'S PASS contained but a single dwelling prior to the extension of the Oregon & California Railroad in 1883. Present population exceeds 2500.

GRANT'S PASS erected 212 buildings, including a $30,000 brick opera house, during the last seven months of 1889.

GRANT'S PASS property quadrupled in value between May and December, 1889, and bids fair to do the same during the first six months of 1890.

GRANT'S PASS is the county seat of Josephine county, one of the extreme southern counties of Oregon, and is known throughout the state as the home of the fig and vine.

GRANT'S PASS has ten general merchandise stores, doing an aggregate cash business of over $3000 per day, and plenty room for more.

GRANT'S PASS is the sole distributing point for 1800 square miles of the most prolific territory on the Pacific Coast, embracing the whole of Josephine county.

GRANT'S PASS has shipped $2,820,000 worth of gold dust since 1883, being the output of a few partially developed placer mines in Josephine county.

GRANT'S PASS has one sash and door factory, with a paid up capital of $125,000, affording employment to over 200 men all the year round.

GRANT'S PASS has twenty saw mills in operation in the Sugar Pine Forests, within a radius of 28 miles, and ships more lumber and manufactured woodwork than any town in Oregon, except Portland.

GRANT'S PASS is situated on the north bank of the beautiful Rogue River, which, in addition to its charming scenic features, affords a 50,000-horsepower for manufacturing purposes.

GRANT'S PASS is surrounded by the forest wealth of Michigan, the precious metals of Montana, the marble quarries of Vermont, and the semi-tropic fruit fields of Southern California.

GRANT'S PASS, by reason of its wonderfully diversified resources, affords an inviting field for the speculator, the manufacturer, the miner, the dairyman, the fruit grower, the lumberman, the stock-raiser, and last, but not least, the inactive healthseeker.

GRANT'S PASS is a new pushing town, has drawn its support from the progressive sections, has no "winged insects on it," and offers no special inducements to the "mossback."

GRANT'S PASS has a daily stage line and mail service to Crescent City, California, and a telephone line to the same point, 87 miles distant, is now being built.

GRANT'S PASS has a national bank with a paid up capital of $50,000, and its deposits for the first two weeks of its existence, from January 1 to January 13, 1890, footed up over $50,000.

GRANT'S PASS is going to be the great midland city of Oregon and California.

GRANT'S PASS is a division point on the Southern Pacific system, has a round house, machine shops, and will sooner or later be made the chief car manufacturing center of the state, on account of the superiority of its timber.

GRANT'S PASS laid 17,000 feet of ten-foot sidewalk, and expended $196,000 for improvements in 1889.

GRANT'S PASS will be the inland terminus of the Grant's Pass and Coast Railroad, thus affording a short and inexpensive ocean outlet for its products.

GRANT'S PASS has made greater progress, and enlisted more capital than any town in Oregon of equal size during the past year.

GRANT'S PASS has a modern water and electric light system in course of construction, and work upon an improved sewerage system will be commenced early in the spring.

GRANT'S PASS has a $20,000 brick hotel under way, and another to cost $35,000 is to be erected before the close of the present year.

GRANT'S PASS is not a paper town based upon a bubble, but a solid commercial city, and there is nothing of an "untamed feline nature in its composition.

GRANT'S PASS has already earned more money for investors in proportion to the amount invested than any town in Oregon or Washington.

GRANT'S PASS will soon be reached by the great Union Pacific Railway system on its westward march from Boise City to San Francisco via the Donahue road, the two roads now being separated by a distance of less than 600 miles.

GRANT'S PASS will soon be the greatest pork-packing center on the North Pacific Coast. Arrangements are now being made by Portland parties for the establishment of a packery with a daily capacity of 800 hogs.

GRANT'S PASS shipped during the year 1889, 110 carloads of choice watermelons, 73 carloads of canteloupes, 82 carloads of sweet potatoes. 87 carloads of peaches, 380 carloads of apples, 11 carloads of nectarines, 19 carloads of grapes, 18,600 pounds of almond nuts, 32,000 pounds of prunes, 48 carloads of hops, 86 carloads of broom corn, 113 carloads of gold-bearing quartz, worth $65 per ton, and 1878 carloads of lumber and manufactured woodwork. Shipments extended north to Seattle and south to Los Angeles.

GOVERNMENT LAND. Josephine County, of which Grant's Pass is the County Seat, contains 145,000 acres of good unoccupied government land, besides 400,000 acres of railroad lands, now on the market, at prices ranging from $2 50 to $20 per acre.

BUSINESS PROPERTY on the principal streets all level cleared and sidewalked, and within 300 feet of a $30,000 brick opera house, can be had for a short time only at TEN DOLLARS PER FRONT FOOT.

RESIDENCE LOTS, 50x100 feet each, all level, cleared, and surrounded by modern dwellings, can be had at prices ranging from $40 to $125 each; terms, one-half cash, balance in one year at 16 per cent.

ACRE TRACTS overlooking the beautiful Rogue River, in city limits, clear and level, at prices ranging from $75 to $300 each, one-half cash.

LOTS $200 EACH. [illegible] A portion of this beautiful tract has been subdivided into full sized lots, 50x100 feet. LOTS $200 EACH.

Parties not wishing to buy acre tracts can now get any number of lots they want at a price as cheap as acre property is selling for in less desirable localities.

This property is on the direct line between Portland, Oswego and Oregon City, the direction in which the most valuable and permanent improvements will be made in the next few years. The location is high, commanding a magnificent view, and pure water can be had anywhere at a depth of about thirty feet.

The proposed extension of the Second Street Electric Motor Line will go through the property and the P. & W. V. R. R. passes through it now.

At the price these lots are being offered they are likely to double in value within six months. The price for the next sixty days is $200 and upwards each, on easy terms, to suit all. Lithographic plats will be ready in a few days. Meantime investors had better call and make selections.

THE FRATERNAL WORLD.

The New A. O. U. W. Lodge in North Portland Has Been Instituted.

Yesterday's Meeting of the Elks—Activity in Odd Fellow Circles—U. E. A. Social—Miscellaneous Doings in the Secret Orders.

Industry lodge will have degree work this evening.

Multnomah lodge, No. 48, paid a fraternal visit to Industry last Monday evening.

The intention of organizing a camp of Druids has been abandoned until later in the season.

J. M. Lewis, recently appointed postmaster for East Portland, is a member of Fidelity lodge, No. [illegible]

George S. H. Jackson has received his commission as state organizer of the order of Chosen Friends.

The new lodge of Red Men will meet hereafter every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Red Men's hall.

A lodge is expected to be organized shortly at North Yakima, Wash. F. M. Spain, P. M. W., has the matter in charge.

Hon. W. R. Graham, S. M. W., has been elected grand master for Iowa. This is the first instance of the kind in this order.

The grand master, in a recent communication in the official organ, recognizes the valuable services of his deputy for district No. 1.

The circular issued by the grand master appealing for aid for the Dakota sufferers has been responded to by every lodge thus far.

Members of Blue Mountain lodge, at Dayton, Wash., and their families had a social entertainment on the evening of the 17th ult.

The Kansas Workmen have instructed their supreme representative to endeavor to have the minimum age of admission at 18 years.

Multnomah lodge meets at Workmen's hall this evening, and will take final action on proposed amendments to the by-law. Other important matter will be considered.

Official docket No. 8 has been issued by the grand master, and is an appeal to the members to work for the good of the order and endeavor to increase the numbers.

Unity lodge No. 25 was moved from Redmen's hall to Knights of Pythias hall, where they occupy for the present the rooms recently vacated by the Uniform Rank.

Willamette, No. 52, U. E. A., will meet hereafter at 8 o'clock. The meeting this week will consist of additional social features, consisting of readings, music and refreshments.

Upchurch lodge, at Twenty-second and S streets, will draw a few members from the older lodges, on account of their close residence to the new lodge. They will be cheerfully transferred.

Wednesday night, Fidelity, of East Portland, was the recipient of an official visit from the grand master. The hall was crowded and a very enjoyable time was spent in literary and musical exercises, succeeded by an elaborate banquet.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor E. H. Stolte, of the United Endowment Associates, received an official circular yesterday from Grand Commander M. Cooney, giving a resume of the actions of the grand lodge, held in San Francisco on the 18th, 19th and 20th ult. The circular will be read in lodge next meeting.

The district deputy visited No. 27 last Friday evening, and finding the lodge without a past master, filled the vacancy by installing the M. W. It appeared that the present M. W. was entitled to the position, and should have been installed as such at the first meeting in January, but through a misapprehension of the law he failed to be advanced. The wrong is now righted.

Little Brooklyn, of East Portland, is having a boom. They took in four last month, and have about as many more on the string for this month. For several years this lodge has been noted for its fidelity and even good work, but failed to secure a member. Hereafter they intend to keep time to the music of the A. O. U. W., and will forward march whenever the word is given.—A. O. U. W. Reporter.

The long-heralded new lodge in North Portland was instituted last Tuesday evening by Grand Master Stephens. Its number is 126, and its name Upchurch, in honor of the father of the order. It starts out with forty-six charter members, and comes at once to the front rank in membership, proving itself thus one of the largest lodges ever instituted in the jurisdiction.

At the meeting of the Elks yesterday resolutions of condolence over the death of Brother Parant were adopted, which appear elsewhere in this paper. A committee of three were appointed to meet Managers Friedlander, Howe and Cordray to agree upon a leading lady, who should arrive here in the near future, whose arrival could be made the basis of a ladies' session. This meeting is designed to take place in April. Manager Howe, who is a member of the order, has already generously placed the New Park at the disposal of the lodge for holding the ladies' session. The committee on hall reported progress. It has full power to act in the matter of securing a permanent place of meeting.

Pythian Points.

Hope lodge will have initiations Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Fred Silcocks, who disappeared so mysteriously last week, was a member of Mystic No. 2.

It is not generally known that we have a Scandinavian lodge in this city, but such is the fact, and it is doing well.

Lincoln lodge No. 50 was instituted at Davenport, Wash., on March 14. It had a large charter list, and took all night to complete the work.

A lodge was instituted at Tekoa, Wash., on Thursday evening, March 13. The lodge is No. 57, with about thirty charter members, and good prospects.

Deputy Ahlsteedt made a flying trip to San Francisco recently; while there he was presented with a handsome watch charm, representing eight orders.

North Yakima lodge No. 49 was instituted on the 10th of March by Hon. John Forbes, G. C.; F. M. Spain is C. C. About fifty Knights from Roslyn and Ellensburgh were present, with the Ellensburgh brass band.

Castle lodge No. 18 created five Knights Tuesday. This lodge has work every meeting. The officers are not only efficient, but they are rustlers. The Chancellor commander, J. A. Waddle, has presented about twenty names himself for admission. This lodge is also known for its courteous treatment to visitors, and their meetings are always well attended by other members.

Germania lodge, No. 12, has three candidates again in waiting to receive the first rank. This lodge is about to consider the raising of its weekly sick benefits from $5 to $10 which no doubt is a wise plan of doing, for this lodge can never afford to do so. Germania division, No. 7, uniform rank, had a first-class drill last Wednesday night, there was a large attendance present, and some very excellent movements were gone through. At the conclusion of the drill all the Sir Knights present were treated to a fine surprise lunch by Sir Knight Lieutenant E. House in commemoration of his birthday. All had a very enjoyable time and went home pleased and delighted at having spent a very pleasant and sociable evening. There are a number of such little surprises in store for this division.

Odd Fellowship.

Progress lodge 72 will have degree work tonight.

Ellison encampment at their last meeting advanced four.

The lodge at Baker City will celebrate the 71st anniversary.

The Pendleton degree staff made an official visit to Athena on Friday, March 21st.

Grand Secretary Shaw instituted an encampment, No. 15, at Ellensburg last month.

G. E. Garrison, a pioneer Odd Fellow of California, died at Petaluma, on March 16th.

Nos. 25 and 26 were instituted during March, at Ellensburg and Montesano, respectively.

Harmony encampment will meet to-morrow evening and work in the Royal Purple degree.

Morning Star Rebekah Degree lodge, No. 24, was instituted at Cheney, February 25th, with twenty charter members.

A Rebekah Degree lodge was instituted at North Yakima, Wash., on the 3d of March past, by L. F. A. Shaw, grand secretary.

Home lodge, East Portland, at their last meeting, elected A. H. Boscow, V. G., and W. W. Terry secretary, to fill vacancies.

The Calapooia lodge, of Brownsville, propose to celebrate the next anniversary, and invite all neighboring lodges to join them.

Tacoma, Wash., Odd Fellows, propose to celebrate the 71st anniversary in grand style. Professor F. M. Spain, of North Yakima, will deliver the address.

Grand Secretary A. N. Gambell has a letter in the A. O. U. W. Reporter for April urging upon the members in this jurisdiction the necessity of a publication exclusively in their interest.

HONOLULU A PROGRESSIVE CITY.

S. S. Crocker Speaks of the Growing Industries of the Sandwich Islands.

S. S. Crocker, an old resident of Leominster, Mass., who has just returned from a five weeks' sojourn among the Sandwich islands, was seen at the Esmond hotel yesterday afternoon. Mr. Crocker was a guest of his son, lieutenant commander of the ship Mohegan, and spent most of his time in Honolulu.

"Barring the fact that I had an attack of la grippe," said he, "I enjoyed myself greatly. I was surprised to find that this disease had found its way among the islanders, but they have it in a very mild form. This is no doubt owing to the salubrious climate. The temperature of the atmosphere is very even, and while I was there varied only a few degrees. The thermometer ranges from 70 to 72 degrees, and the hottest day it only reached 78. The islands are beginning to show signs of marked improvement. The sugar and rice industries are increasing from year to year and general prosperity reigns. The profit on sugar is enormous. One of the largest firms, on an output of 15,000 tons last year, realized a profit of 85 per cent. A new company is being organized now whose plant will have a capacity of 30,000 tons annually. Honolulu is an enterprising city, having a population of about 20,000 souls. The schools are admirably managed, and English is taught as one of the cardinal essentials of even elementary education."

Mr. Crocker will remain in Portland a few days longer before starting for his home in the East.

THERE'S A FORTUNE IN IT.

$12,000, part cash, will buy the choicest tract on Mount Tabor. Five minutes from motor. Slopes to the west. Abundance of pure, sparkling water, which at certain seasons flows from the ground, and is at no time but a few feet from the surface. It is conceded that at Mount Tabor will be the future magnificent suburban homes of Portland. Many beautiful residences have recently been built, costing from $10,000 to $25,000. In what other suburb of Portland can you find such homes? There is but "One Mount Tabor," and that the choicest spot in Oregon for a quiet suburban home. Pure water is as necessary as pure air, and this tract commands its share of the latter, and as far as known has a "corner" on the water, at least it has the only supply which has as yet been discovered. The supply is practically inexhaustible, and with a moderate power could be carried to any part of the mountain. Water privileges often sell for large sums of money, and it is but a few years when this one will be worth more than the land. Investigate at once. Address R. V. C., P. O. box 52.

MAGEE'S PORTLAND CREAMERY.

H. J. Magee, proprietor of the Portland creamery, No. 211 Fourth street near the court house, will this summer be prepared to furnish cream, ice cream, buttermilk, etc., on the shortest notice. Parties, sociables, and ice cream parlors can have their orders filled on short notice and only the best will be given. The constantly increasing business has compelled Mr. Magee to make arrangements with several more dairymen so that he will have a fresh stock continually on hand.

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood, for at no other season does the system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla as now. During the long, cold winter, the blood becomes thin and impure, the body becomes weak and tired, the appetite may be lost. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted to purify and enrich the blood, to create a good appetite and to overcome that tired feeling. It increases in popularity every year, for it is the ideal spring medicine.

"I have suffered for some years with eruptions on my face and neck. After using five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, every blemish disappeared, and now my general health is excellent. I believe it to be best medicine in the world." E. F. WALSH, Olalla, Oregon.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Juniper Berries, and other well known vegetable remedies, in such a peculiar manner as to derive the full medicinal value of each. It will cure, when in the power of medicine, scrofula, salt rheum, sores, boils, pimples, all humors, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, indigestion, general debility, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints. It overcomes that extreme tired feeling caused by change of climate, season, or life, and imparts life and strength to the whole system.

"I have used six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla for indigestion. It has helped me a great deal. I think it the best medicine for indigestion and dyspepsia." MRS. N. A. LAUDERDALE, 193 N. Fifth street, San Jose, Cal.

THIS OLD RELIABLE SPECIALIST

Of many year's experience, treats with wonderful success all diseases of the HEAD, THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, LIVER, STOMACH, BOWELS, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER. CANCER treated by a new specific without cutting.

PILES AND FISTULA—more than five hundred cases, guarantees a cure. RUPTURE cured without hindrance from business.

CATARRH AND CONSUMPTION—treated with better success than at any dispensary on the coast.

ALL DISEASES and NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of WOMEN treated with more skill than by other physicians, a cure always affected.

This well known and reliable specialist treats nervous, chronic and private diseases, including lost manhood; also blood and skin diseases which result in swellings and sores. He treats successfully the effects of self abuse, which left unchecked causes loss of memory, vitality, softening of the spine and brain, heart disease, consumption, morbid despondency, bordering on insanity. He removes deformities of all kinds, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture and syphilis promptly cured.

Dr. Cole is master of all diseases. He is the greatest physician on the American continent. As a surgeon he has no equal. His French method of treating private diseases far excels all others. Rooms private. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Terms reasonable. Patients treated at home. Correspondence solicited.

Send ten cents for list of questions and pamphlet upon special private and nervous diseases. Dr. Cole will publish no more testimonials for the present. Refers by permission to Col. Jas.
